WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Officialdom here maintained an attitude of silence today concerning charges published in London that American bankers contributed to the collapse of the MacDonald ministry by refusing to extend further needed gold credit unless certain reforms were instituted in the British budget.

The delicacy of the situation, said, precluded any official public commen

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Pa Newc observes that the Japanese beetle traps which have been in place about the city for the past month are now being taken down and stored away. Evidently few beetles were caught as no report has been received from the U. S. department of agriculture as to any activities of the beetle here this summer.

Pa Newc discovered to his own satisfaction last night that Rural avenue hill has been oiled. There apparently has been an abundant supply used in the process also. It would be just as well if autos stayed off the hill for a few days until the oil soaks in and dries, as the hill appeared to be quite skiddy last night.

What's happened to that suggestion about a more fitting name for Coaltown? It should have another.

While workmen hurry along the East Washington street bridge repair work on the street surface, crowds of interested onlookers watch at both ends. When Pa Newc passed by yesterday there were at least a score of spectators closely absorbed in what the men were doing.

There was plenty of thunder last night, but little rain. Long rolling peals rumbled through the skies, and many who were awake anticipated a heavy storm.

Several local men were discussing the possibility of reviving the ancient art of bowling on the green here. It is believed that this ancient sport would create a great amount of interest, once it were gotten under way. The game is played on a smooth green, 125 feet long and eighteen feet wide. There is an ideal spot for such a green at the Municipal Course, between the tee No. 3 hole and the No. 1 tee, which could be utilized for such a purpose.

Raging Typhoon Adds To China Flood Peril

By TED THACKERAY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

SHANGHAI, Aug. 25—The flood devastated valley of the Yangtse was visited today by new horror in the shape of a raging typhoon which took a new toll of hundreds of lives and aggravated the suffering of the millions of homeless in Hankow and surrounding territory.

Hundreds of structures, undermined by the flood waters of the last few weeks, collapsed under the force of the raging wind and toppled into the Yangtse, carrying with them scores of Chinese who had taken refuge on rooftops when the waters of the swollen river inundated the area.

Sampans Capsized

Sampans which for the last three weeks have been able to navigate through the flooded streets of Hankow were capsized by the score. Each was loaded to capacity with scores of survivors of the flood disaster. Many were swept to death in the raging torrent.

The double horror of flood and typhoon was feared to have sealed the doom of the great city of inland China and perhaps that of its neighbors, Hanyang and Wuchang Sweeping down the valley of the Yangtse, the storm struck Shanghai with moderated force, causing only minor damage along the waterfront.

The American gunboat Tutuila, carrying food and medicinal supplies for American and other refugees, left Shanghai for Hankow this afternoon. Other ships were being loaded with similar cargos, and were due to leave for the flooded area shortly.

The Yangtse was receding today at the rate of two inches daily. It was estimated that at this pace it will take six weeks for the river to reach its former level.

Lawrence County Farmers Meet Problem Of Surplus Wheat By Using It As Feed

The wheat surplus problem this year is being solved by Lawrence county farmers who produce an average of 125,000 bushels yearly.

County Farm Agent McCulloch says that the present threshing season indicates that the average yield of wheat in the county is above normal. A considerable part of the crop this year will be fed to dairy stock and poultry, while the remainder will be sold to local millers.

The practice of feeding the surplus to farm animals has long been advocated by experts in farm economics. McCulloch said that Lawrence county farmers will feed the crop to livestock due to the low price this year.

The yield is particularly good and more is being threshed this year than usual. With an average of 125,000 bushels annually the crop has been reduced by 100,000 since 1919, according to McCulloch. Along with the reduction in crop there has also been a reduction of wheat acreage in this county. Since 1919 about 5,000 wheat acres have been turned to growing barley and truck crops.

Part of this acreage has been taken up for growing barley. Reports of farmers indicate that from 30 to 40 bushels of barley are grown on what was formerly wheat acreage.

Wheat is now yielding between 25 and 40 bushels per acre on Lawrence county farms, according to reports to the County Farm Agent.

Make 70 Arrests In Gang Warfare In New York City

Expect Arrest Of 'Big-Time' Racketeers To Follow In Short Order

NEW YORK STARTS GANGSTER CLEAN-UP

Twenty Five Thousand Attend Mass Meeting To Demand Police Action

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—A campaign against New York gangsters and racketeers got underway today when police arrested more than 70 persons. The arrests were made after police officials ordered that all known criminals be taken into custody.

None of the so-called "big shot" racketeers was seized in the first roundup.

The arrests were viewed as the first drive of police in cooperation with the Federal Government to cleanup New York in the wake of weeks of violence, during which two children were the innocent victims of gunmen and gangsters.

25,000 At Mass Meeting

Arrests of some of the big time gangsters were expected during the rest of the week. Federal investigators are already in New York checking up the finances of the racketeers in preparing to move against them for income tax violations.

Public indignation over the slaying of innocent bystanders in recent street shootings here was voiced by more than 20,000 persons at an anti-gang rally last night in Madison Square Garden. Thousands were unable to gain seats and milled around the hall.

Bainbridge Colby, chairman of the meeting, attacked Mayor Walker, city officials and police and minced no words in spite of the fact that Police Commissioner Mulrooney was one of the principal speakers at the meeting.

Mulrooney promised a new drive to smash gunmen.

Woman Victim Is Mother Of Nine Children—Investigation In Under Way

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—A mother of nine children, Mrs. Lena Glick, 48, was killed and 12 persons were injured in a terrific explosion that wrecked a three-story brick building and tossed debris on the cottage next door. Firemen searched the ruins today for more bodies but a report that a dozen members of two negro families were missing was denied.

Two hundred policemen maintained order in the crowd of 10,000 west siders attracted by the detonation.

A broken gas main in the basement was thought to have caused the blast but Coroner Herman N. Bundesen arrived to investigate the possibility that a huge still exploded.

Thursday First Day To Register

All City Voters Must Register Anew For Fall Elections

THREE REGISTRATION DAYS SCHEDULED

Thursday, August 27, is the first day for citizens of New Castle to register if they want to vote at the primaries to be held on September 15. Three days will be provided for registration, August 27, September 1 and September 12. The registrars will sit at the various registration booths from seven until nine a. m. eleven to two, and four to ten p. m. These times are all Eastern Standard time which means that the daylight savings time for registering will be from eight to ten in the morning, twelve noon until three in the afternoon, and five to eleven at night.

Taxpayers can register on their county tax receipts only. City tax receipts are not valid. The county tax receipt must have been issued within two years last past which means that a 1930 tax receipt is good, or one issued after November 4, 1929.

Must Register

Taxpayers who wish to vote must register. If a taxpayer misses all three registration days, for reasons considered valid, there will still be time to register before the primary but the reasons must either be sickness or absence from the city. Otherwise, the voter who does not register on either of the three days provided must forfeit his vote in the primary election.

The last day to be assessed to register is September 2. Voters who have not been assessed by that time can do so by going to the office of

County Farm Visit This Fall Occurs September 24, Announced Today

Thursday, September 24, was announced today as the date for the regular fall tour of Lawrence county's bankers to different farms thruout the county. New Castle, Ellwood City, Bessemer, New Wilmington and other bank officers make the farm rounds annually.

President Joel S. McKee of the bankers' organization said that Wheeler McMillen, associate editor of Country Home, farm journal, will deliver the chief address at the grange dinner which will culminate the day's tour.

County Farm Agent Harold R. McCulloch is at present preparing the farm tour itinerary, President McKee said.

Kidnaps Children In Borrowed Plane

(International News Service)

LONE PINE, Cal., Aug. 25.—After a thrilling aerial kidnaping, the first in California's history, in a manner worthy of a Hollywood scenario, Henry Billingsley with his two stepsons, Henry, 5, and Jean, 8, was hiding out today.

When Billingsley took off in a monoplane secured by a ruse at Bishop and headed for the high Sierras with asserted suicidal intent, it was feared he headed for certain death as he had only flown twice before, never by himself, and the altitude limit of the plane was a thousand feet under the top of the mountains.

But miraculously he brought the plane down safely in a dry lake bed near here. Auto tracks seen in it led to the belief that he had arranged to be met there and that he might now be hiding in Los Angeles. Authorities at Darwin, 40 miles east, in Death Valley, were ordered to stop the Bishop painter if he tried to pass the last outpost at the desert's edge.

Mrs. Billingsley had been given custody of the children at the time of their divorce. Once before the husband took the children from their mother and went to Reno but he was persuaded to return them.

Early yesterday, Billingsley seized the two children and told his ex-wife he was going to take them up in an airplane and wreck it, killing himself and them.

He hired a plane and then induced the pilot to leave it for a moment, taking off while the pilot was gone. No pursuit planes were available so wires hummed as California, Nevada and Arizona looked for the red and silver craft.

Phil Brunette, one of the owners of the "borrowed" plane, finally spotted it near Lone Pine.

Expect Record Crowd At Merchant's Picnic At Park Wednesday

All arrangements for the biggest picnic of the season, in which all residents of the city and Lawrence county are welcome to participate, the third annual picnic of the merchants of the city, will be an event of all day Wednesday at Cascade Park.

There will be something doing every minute of the day, from ten o'clock in the morning until late in the evening and the public has been extended an invitation to participate and spend the entire day at the affair.

It will be in effect more or less of a general holiday and many of the stores, especially those who are actively participating in the affair will be closed all or part of the day to permit both the proprietors and the employes to participate along with their patrons and friends throughout the city and county.

Free Eats

One of the features of the occasion will be the serving, through the courtesy of the participating merchants of free hot dogs, free coffee and free milk. These will be served in the picnic grove from 11:30 a. m. until 1 p. m. and from 4:30 p. m. until 6 p. m. All attending will be welcome to participate in this free distribution of good things to eat.

Dancing will be the feature of the afternoon from 2 to 5 D. S. T. and the indications are that the dancing pavilion of the park will be thronged during that period of time.

At eight o'clock in the evening, the big feature of the day, the presentation of a two door sedan automobile to some fortunate guest of the merchants at this event will take place.

Believe New Cabinet Has Been Selected

Expect Premier MacDonald To Announce List Of Appointments Today

(International News Service)

LONDON, Aug. 25.—J. Ramsay MacDonald was expected to present the names of members of his new "Cabinet of Co-operation to King George at Buckingham Palace today.

Not more than a dozen ministers will compose the emergency cabinet formed to uphold the prestige of British credit throughout the world and make up a prospective budget deficit of $600,000,000. Although Downing street gave no inkling of the men to be included in the government, it was widely assumed today that they would be as follows:

J. Ramsay MacDonald, Laborite, Prime Minister.

Stanley Baldwin, Conservative leader.

Sir Herbert Samuel, Liberal.

Philip Snowden, Laborite, Chancellor of the Exchequer.

J. H. Thomas, Laborite.

Neville Chamberlain, Conservative.

Sir Samuel Hoare, Conservative.

Lord Hailsham, Conservative.

Sir Donald MacLean, Liberal.

Lord Reading, Liberal.

Political Battle In Allegheny County Involved In His Resignation

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 25.—James F. Malone, of Pittsburgh, State Secretary of Property and Supplies, today tendered his resignation to Governor Gifford Pinchot.

Rather than endorse Charles C. McGovern as a candidate for County Commissioner in Allegheny county, Malone, long a leader in Pittsburgh politics, quit the Pinchot cabinet.

Malone's withdrawal is the first break in the cabinet which Governor Gifford Pinchot appointed after his election. His removal takes from the cabinet the one man in it who has been credited with being a practical politician.

Letter Made Public

The letter of resignation was made public by the governor's office and accompanied by a Pinchot statement regretting the move, but making no reference to the trouble with McGovern.

Governor Desires Copy Of Suggestion With All Details Before Making Decision

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 25.—Until he has all the details before him, Governor Pinchot will not comment on the plan suggested by officials of the Carnegie Coal Company to limit production in the bituminous fields by a tri-state agreement.

The governor said he would prefer to have a copy of the suggestion with any details it may contain so that he could give it some thought before taking a definite attitude.

Auto Traced In Newspaper Bombing

Find Machine Was Sold To Man Who Gave Fictitious Address At Purchase

Youngstown, O., Aug. 25.—Trumbull and Mahoning county authorities and police officials of Youngstown and Warren today joined in search for the owner of an automobile seen speeding from the plant of the Mansfield "Journal" at Mansfield shortly after a bomb had been exploded here last week. The serial number of the motor was obtained from the Packard Motor Company. They advised that the car had been consigned to the Packard Youngstown Motor Company, who in turn report the car was sold through their Warren (O.) dealer.

In checking the address given by the owner, Warren police found it to be a vacant lot. The car was sold to a man who gave his name as Sam Fiora. 234 Pine street, Warren.

Police were told the buyer was accompanied by a Cleveland man when the purchase was made.

Lions Hear Report Of Troop F. Camp

Also Entertained At Noon Hour Meeting By Rev. Thomas Rees

Impromptu entertainment added spice to the customary monthly business meeting of the local Lions club members, held at the close of their weekly luncheon in the Elks club today.

The clubmen for a brief period enjoyed a number of humorous readings given by the Rev. Thomas Rees, pastor of the First Baptist church at Cambridge, O., brother of Lion Arthur Rees. The minister is paying his brother a visit this week.

Lion Jay L. Reed, member of the city's civilian sponsoring committee, gave a report to the club on Troop F's showing at Mt. Gretna. His remarks summarized the visit which the sponsoring committee paid to the guardsmen during their recent training period at Colebrook. He praised the entire outfit.

The members heard oral reports of committee chairman relative to past and future club activities. A corn roast of the group is contemplated for the very near future, it was announced.

V. R. Ray, Beaver Falls Lion, was a guest at today's luncheon.

flying Colonel might be quizzed by local authorities at Nemuro in compliance with formal regulations.

Difficulties Not Likely

However as long as the government has planned a six-day programme of welcome for the couple and as long as their zigzag course was due to fog rather than design, it was not thought likely that they would get into the same difficulties as Hughe Herndon and Clyde Pangborn, who were recently fined more than $1,000 each for flying over fortified territory.

The Lindberghs have been requested by the Navy Department to arrive at Kasumigaura Airdrome, Tokyo, at 1 p. m. Wednesday (12 a. m. E. D. T.), weather permitting. To reach Tokyo at that hour the flyers must leave Nemuro, Island of Hokkaido, at 8 a. m., Wednesday (7 p. m., Tuesday, E. D. T.)

Entertained Royally

Since their long-delayed arrival at Nemuro due to misadventures over the Kurile Islands, the Americans have been entertained royally by the inhabitants and representatives of the Tokyo government. They are occupying the same suite at the little city's principal hotel as that used by the Emperor when he visits the northern part of his empire.

The couple rose at nine o'clock this morning and drank coffee brewed in their host's specially-made percolator. Since he had failed to provide knives and forks, they continued to practice the fine art of eating with chop sticks begun when they were guests aboard the Japanese steamer Shinshiri Manu off Ketoi Island after being forced down by fog.

Sisto was involved in a traffic accident and the judge imposed a jail sentence of four months. Through an appeal that his business would be handicapped and that his family depended upon him, his jail term was changed to be served only at night.

Instead of hell being abolished, as proposed a few years ago, it has been localized to various cities and communities.—The Toledo Blade.

Deaths of the Day

C. B. Morris Funeral

Funeral services for Chandler B. Morris, Youngstown, Ohio, who was an automobile accident victim, were held Monday afternoon from a funeral home in Youngstown, Ohio and interment was made in that city.

Mrs. Mary P. McKissick

Mrs. Mary Perretti McKissick, aged 29, wife of Oran McKissick, 453 East Washington street, died in the New Castle hospital Monday at 3:30 p. m. following an illness of one and a half years from complications.

She was born in this city December 12, 1901, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Beney Perretti, and had lived in this city all her life. She was married six years ago to Oran McKissick.

She is survived by her husband, her parents, a son, Harry Louis; two sisters, Mrs. Frank Marcellaona, Viola Perretti, and four brothers, Sam, Louis, Tony and Carl Perretti, all of New Castle.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2:30 p. m. from the home of Mrs. Rebecca McKissick, 636 John street, with Rev. S. L. Maxwell officiating.

Mrs. Elizabeth Zehner Grigsby.

Mrs. Elizabeth Zehner Grigsby, widow of Attorney H. W. Grigsby, was found dead Monday, August 24, 1931 at her home 322 East North street by a neighbor, who happened into the home to visit a friend who had a room there.

Her death was sudden and unexpected and is believed to have been due to a heart attack or stroke. She had apparently been in her usual health and attended Sunday school and church services Sunday morning at the Second United Presbyterian church. She was last seen about ten o'clock Sunday evening. Her death is believed to have occurred shortly after that time, and comes as a shock to her many friends in this city where she was held in highest esteem.

Mrs. Grigsby was born April 30, 1864, the daughter of Adam and Eva Emmel Zehner and was 67 years of age. Her early life was spent in Shenango township. She had been a resident of this city for nearly forty years.

She was a member of the Second United Presbyterian church, also Miss Huston's class of the Sunday school of the church and of the Missionary Society of the church and was active and faithful in her attendance at the same.

Her husband preceded her in death twenty-six years ago, having passed away in 1905. She leaves two sons, Joseph Baldwin Grigsby and Chester Emmel Grigsby, both of Chicago, Ill., one sister, Mrs. George McFarland, of this city and two brothers, John and William Zehner, both of Shenango township.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday, August 26, 1931 at 3 p. m. D. S. T. at the residence, 322 East North street, with her pastor Dr. A. J. Randles in charge. Interment will be made in Oak Park cemetery.

Mrs. Cory Funeral

Funeral services for Mrs. Margaret Cory were held Monday afternoon from the family home in Little Beaver township with Rev. C. P. Durbin and Rev. F. G. McChesney officiating.

Interment was made in the Little Beaver cemetery and a host of relatives and friends gathered to say their last farewell as she was borne to her last resting place by Allen Noggle, John Ault, F. G. McChesney, G. F. Miles, Hugh Martin and William Nesbitt.

Mrs. Margaret E. Campbell.

Mrs. Margaret Elizabeth Campbell, wife of Amzi T. Campbell, died at the family residence, 112 Terrace avenue, on Monday, August 24, 1931, at 3:30 p. m., following an extended illness. Mrs. Campbell had been an invalid for four years.

Mrs. Campbell was born in New Castle, August 23, 1850, the daughter of Robert L. and Nancy Ann Jackson Cooper and was 81 years of age. She had spent her entire life in this city, where she was widely known and held in the highest esteem. She was a charter member of the First United Presbyterian church. She had been married 56 years last February.

She leaves her husband, and two sons, John L. Campbell and Robert C. Campbell, both of this city, also two brothers and one sister, Alderman J. Lee Cooper and Dr. E. S. Cooper, both of this city, and Mrs. Mary E. Caldwell, also of this city, and six grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday, August 26, 1931 at 2:30 p. m. D. S. T. at the late residence, 112 Terrace avenue, with Dr. S. E. Irvine, her pastor, in charge.

Interment will be made in Greenwood cemetery.

OFFICER FINED FOR CHURCH VISIT

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Aug. 25.—For a recent visit to the Markleysburg church, Constable James Morrison of Henry Clay township, was fined $10 and costs, amounting to $30, according to Justice of the Peace Humbertson. It was alleged that Morrison created a disturbance when he entered in the midst of the services, brandished a blackjack and finally brought it down on the head of one of the parishioners. No explanation was given by the officer.

It's going to take some mightly big platforms next year to list everything the parties stand for.

PA NEWC FAMILY HAS CORN ROAST

The height of the "corn roast" season is at the peak and one of the most interesting of those to be held this week was that of Pa Newc's family Monday evening, when the employes of the News, with their families gathered at Cascade Park for a get-to-gether celebration, with Fred L. Rentz as the host.

At 6 o'clock about 125 persons, men, women and children, sat down to a most sumptuous dinner, typical of a corn roast. The platters were piled high with most delicious corn, large pans held the makings for "hot dogs," baked ham was served in juicy slices and all the trimmings that go with a feast of that kind were in evidence, not the least of these being the dill pickles made especially for the occasion by Fred L. Rentz.

Water melon, ice cream and cake was furnished for dessert, to say nothing of the elegant peaches, which were brought by W. E. Ferver, from the trees on his lot on the Wilmington road.

In Billy Glenn's fun house The News crowd made merry from shortly after dinner until time for the dance. The whirling platform took first honors for attention, and for an hour or more the floor was piled up with reporters and compositors who vainly endeavored to prove their mastery over centrifugal force. The gorge route took its quota of employes who wanted thrills and got them in abundance.

From the fun house the urge was north to the Rainbow Terrace, where Carl Shaner, manager of the park, had The News employes as his guests. Jack Bruce and his boy friends provided the music and the boys were hot. If you can walk you can dance to Jack Bruce's music and there were no cripples in the crowd.

It was a big evening. One where deadlines and spot news were forgotten long enough to make a holiday for a family of 120, and they made the most of it. From the time they sat down to the baked ham and hot corn until they dug the watermelon seeds out of their ears there wasn't an idle moment, and the feed was merely the beginning of it all.

Teacher's Picnic

The Teachers and Officers Conference of the First Christian Sunday school will have a picnic supper Wednesday evening at the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Woolcock on the Slippery Rock Creek.

QUEEN ESTHERS ENJOY CORN ROAST MONDAY

The members of the Queen Esther class of the Third United Presbyterian church, with their husbands and friends enjoyed a corn roast Monday evening at the H. A. Anderson farm on the Butler road.

Early in the evening about thirty members and guests assembled and the huge bon-fire, which had been built in the yard, was the center of attraction. Pep singing and games proved popular pastimes while the corn was roasting among the hot coals of the fire and when this was cooked to a "queen's taste" tables were set up on the lawn and the corn and freshly roasted wieners quickly disappeared.

The success of the affair was due to the committee in charge: Mrs. Josephine Thompson, Mrs. C. E. McDermott and Mrs. Anderson.

Several out of town members were present, including Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allshouse, of Youngstown, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. John J. Kenehan of Pittsburgh. Miss Audrey Wilkinson, Bernard Houk and Gilbert Colnot were special guests.

At a late hour the crowd departed for home, thanking Mrs. Anderson and the committee for the wonderful time each had enjoyed.

Corn and Wiener Roast

The members of the True Blue class of the East Brook Methodist Sunday school held a corn and wiener roast Thursday evening at the home of Phillip McCreary and a delicious menu was enjoyed by those present.

The evening hours were delightfully spent in games and pep singing.

Plans were promulgated for a spaghetti supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clare McConaghy on the East Brook road, Friday evening, August 28 at 8 o'clock.

The members who plan to attend are requested to notify one of the committee before Thursday evening.

S. of B. Club

S. of B. Club members met together Saturday evening and had a very pleasant time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Shaw, Wallace avenue.

Card playing was an enjoyable pastime and prizes for high scores went to Mrs. Thomas Sweet and Carl Reed, a special guest.

In three weeks the club will meet with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sweet, Butler avenue extension.

MRS. KISER HOSTESS AT GARDEN PARTY

The summer weather and beautiful gardens are conducive to garden parties and one of particular attractiveness was that Friday afternoon when Mrs. Marquerite Kiser was hostess at the Floyd Cotton home on the Frew Mill road.

The card tables were placed in the beautiful shady nooks of the lawn and presented a harmonizing background for the summery frocks of the women. Mrs. Ida McClung and Luella Campbell won the bridge prizes and those for bingo were presented Mrs. Harriet Sweezy and Bernice Shannon and the 500 awards were won by Mrs. Trests and Mrs. Shannon.

Green and white were the colors used in the appointments when dainty refreshments were served at the small tables.

Mrs. Kiser had as her aides Helen, Alma, Alice, Ida and Dorthea Cotton and her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Kleckner.

Guests from Erie, Johnstown and Pittsburgh were among those present.

Farewell Party

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Young of Slippery Stop entertained a gathering of friends at their home Saturday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Criswell, who is the manager of Dick Victor's camp. The boys who are employed by Mr. Criswell at his camp were also present. Mr. Criswell and his group are leaving this week for their home in Avalon, Pa.

The evening was spent with chat and dancing and music. The music was furnished by Clyde Young, Wayne Young and Charles Moore. At a late hour a corn and wiener roast was enjoyed on the lawn.

Those present from New Castle were Freda Segar, Goldie Young, Everett Pander, Garth Campbell, Stanley Servick, Glenn Yoho, Clyde Young, Charles Young, Mahlon Young, Wayne Young, Eugene Young, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Young, Mr. and Mrs. Harry James and son Harry Jr. and Mrs. Andrew McClintock.

Those from Avalon, Pa., were Betty Criswell, Mary English, Vera Criswell, Portia Criswell, Jane Criswell, Charles Moore, Rowland Brooks, Bob Morris, Russell Criswell, Howard Burback, Homer Lewis, Donald Criswell and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Criswell.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bowterse were present from Hagerstown, Md.

Hooks Reunion

The first reunion of the Hooks family was held at the home of Mrs. Almira Hooks at Mars, Pa., on Sunday, August 23, with relatives and friends in attendance numbering 72. The day was spent in greetings, social chat and playing games.

There was in attendance two families, each with four generations. Relatives were present from Washington, D. C., Mars, New Castle, Beaver Falls, Pittsburgh, Glenfield, Vilsac, Valencia, Hazelwood and Allison Park.

It was voted to hold the second reunion of the family at the same place on July 4th, 1932.

Rash on Back Caused Water Blisters. Healed by Cuticura.

"During the summer of 1930 a rash came out on my back. It itched so that it caused me to scratch and water blisters formed. They were very red and itchy and I lost my sleep at night on account of the irritation. The trouble lasted about a month and a half.

"My mother advised me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment so I purchased some. I washed the affected parts with the Soap and then applied the Ointment. In about two weeks the trouble disappeared. I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Anna J. Boltz, 1946 Kensington St., Harrisburg, Pa., March 5, 1931.

PLAN NOW TO REGISTER

UNDER the Third Class City law, every citizen who desires to vote at either the primary or general election must personally register on one of three registration days designated. No assessor, registrar, relative, or anyone else can register for another—every one must personally go to his or her polling place to have his name placed on the voting lists.

The first registration day will be next Thursday, August 27th, when the registrars will sit at the polls of all wards of the city.

If unable to register on the first day, further opportunity presents itself on Tuesday, September 1, while Saturday, September 12, will be the last day. The primary election falls on the following Tuesday, or September 15.

Perfunctory questions are asked of the registering citizen, and it is necessary to present a county tax receipt issued within the past two years.

Great interest is being manifest in the coming election, and a heavy vote is anticipated.

However, anyone who has not registered will not be permitted to cast a ballot.

Everyone who desires to vote must register—register personally—and not by proxy.

VOICES IN THE AIR

When Marconi sent his first wireless signal across the Atlantic more than a quarter of a century ago he could hardly have foreseen that his inventions would profoundly affect international relations. Nations are now ethereal relations. They constitute a planetary community. Space, once a purely geometric conception, is a highway to be used in accordance with traffic rules.

For several years the United States and Canada have given much serious thought to the division of air channels between them. There is much interference between broadcasting stations on opposite sides of the international boundary and the time is doubtlessly near when a world allocation of wave lengths will be expedient. A world war on the air is brewing.

It so happens that because of its technical enterprise the North American continent has already appropriated what may be more than its share of the channels, especially of the short-wave telegraphic channels. Yet that share is not enough for the growing needs of both the United States and Canada. Already, so far as the United States, Canada and Mexico are concerned, radio broadcasting and communications to be most effective must be international in its scope and development.

Here in the United States a truce seems to have been signed on the radio war. The best evidence of a general satisfaction with or resignation to prevailing conditions is Washington's silence on the subject of radio control. From no angle is the situation wholly satisfactory, but it is tolerable, which may be all the public expects and can hope for.

HAY FEVER AND THE SUBURBAN TREND

Estimating that a million persons in the United States now suffer from hay fever, the Public Health Service believes the steady growth of the disease lately may be due to the removal of city dwellers into suburban districts where they are exposed to insidious pollens. At this season the tiny irritants fly in the air from the flowers of certain grasses, weeds and trees. Often the annoyance, while scarcely fatal, drives the sufferers to considerable expense in seeking a cure.

The increase of the malady coincident with the centrifugal movement of populations and their consequent infection from vagrant vegetation suggests a theory of cause and affect worth further study. Persons who spend all their life in a city lack the immunity which outside residents enjoy. But the problem should not be difficult to combat. Too many noxious weeds flourish in vacant lots and along roads. The laws of Pennsylvania provide a penalty for property owners who tolerate this condition, but it is not well enforced.

The negligence favors insects as well as weeds. Worm nests may now be seen hanging low from trees beside well traveled highways. They remain undisturbed week after week. Japanese beetles have discovered a new form of dissipation in gorging themselves on the pink-flowered smartweed. They are devastating the pasture pest with an ardor that bids good riddance to the nuisance, though it perpetuates the beetle. Both evils might be abated at a single swoop if the countryside would only make a concerted attack on unwanted flora and fauna.

These matters deserve attention at a moment when unemployment is a pressing problem. In New York Governor Roosevelt has appointed an advisory commission on rural development with the hope of luring back to the farm districts the excess inhabitants of New York's congested cities. But an important requisite will be to make these districts habitable. If the rural boast of its healthful advantages over city life is to be maintained, thought must be given to cleaning up its weed and bug areas, just as cities long ago cleaned up the breeding places of pestilential diseases.

SCIENCE INVADES INDUSTRY

When he discovered the X-rays over 30 years ago Roentgen predicted that they would be an aid to both the physician and the manufacturer. Flesh is so easily penetrated by the rays that medicine profited sooner than industry by the discovery. Not until Dr. W. D. Coolidge devised the powerful tube that bears his name was it possible for the X-ray machine to become a valuable testing tool in the hands of the conscientious manufacturer.

That the X-rays have other than surgical and therapeutic uses the public learned when cocksure experts differed on the authenticity of a few reputed old paintings. There was no denying the faces and ornaments underlying layers of paint mercilessly exposed by the radiograph. Perhaps this success in the field of art had much to do with the application of the all-seeing X-rays in industry.

With the powerful apparatus now available it is possible to penetrate three inches of steel and to trace the course of water pipes and electric wires concealed in walls. Both raw materials and finished products can be examined for hidden defects. No longer can the welded and brazed joint masquerade under a deceptive exterior; for the radiograph remorselessly discloses telltale blisters and blowholes that invite disaster. Hidden cracks in metal stand out with clearness under the powerful rays.

Aviation has been made safer now that it is possible to reject wood because of internal knots and grub-holes which would defy the most vigilant ocular inspection. X-rays are used in making automobile tires and golf balls better and in detecting flaws in spark plugs, metal tubing and carburetors. Automobile axles and crankshafts can be made safer and better, and safety razor blades keener and more durable.

The reason a man can shop more quickly than a woman is because he is more easily flattered.

Humble Apology
A Well-Deserved Scolding
Many Thanks!

By MARSHALL MASLIN

I deserved a scolding and I got it. I wrote an article carelessly and a reader picked me up and gave me a good shaking and sat me down hard. He made me admit I was mistaken, and he makes me admire him for the efficient way in which he caused me to blush for shame.

This article was about Tact and I didn't make my point very clear. I abused Tact and praised Frankness. But the kind of Tact I had in mind was the stupid, sneaking, cowardly Tact that hurts people in the guise of kindness. What I was thinking of was the Tact of those people who say sharp and malicious things with a smile or a nervous giggle. What I meant was tht I'd far rather have an enemy who punches me in the jaw than one who tactfully puts me out of the way with poison in my orange juice and holds my hand as I writhe in agony.

But I muddled the thing up and left wide gaps in my argument. And a keen-eyed Scot in California poked his finger through every hole and made me writhe for shame. He reminded me.

"There are people who are delicate and sensitive. And there are those upon whom life has heaped a discouraging series of bereavements and misfortunes.

(I know there are.)

"If you will be honest with yourself, you should remember many instances where a blurting out of facts would be embarrassing or unpleasant.

(Of course there are.)

"Imagine a thoughtless dolt rushing into a ward and informing a sick woman of her husband's death."

(And yet there are people so eager to bear bad news that they will do that very thing.)

This candid friend—I hope he is a friend—added a few more personal remarks which I'd rather not repeat, because there are limits to my public abnegation. He had my word for it that I didn't like Tact and he wasn't at all tactful....But, in a bruised sort of a way, I am grateful. The man who wrote that letter acted as my conscience. He told me something I needed to know. He reminded me of the obligation that is on all men and women not to be careless and thoughtless and stupid in the words they write or the thoughts they think or the things that they do. And for this I must thank him— even though I know that twenty years from now I'll still be ashamed of deserving the scolding he had to give me.

APOLOGY ISN'T ENOUGH

You may wonder at times why some persons whom you have wronged will not accept your apology.

You feel reppentant and reaclly wish to be forgiven.

You think due allowance should be made for your hasty, unpremeditated action.

When you have overcome your own ill feelings you want former friendship to be re-established.

Serious breaks in a long standing friendship are hard to mend.

After harsh and unfair statements made during anger it is seldom that the one attacked carries the same degree of love and respect us formerly.

There is no reason why you should think that those who love you most should forgive even your most violent demonstrations of anger.

When you let yourself get beyond control you have lost something which you can never full regain.

The same degree of respect and love may seem to exist but deep down in the heart something beautiful has been injured, never to wholly heal.

So it is a serious matter to permit angry emotion to carry you to the point where you think only of inflicting serious injury, mental or physical, upon the victim of your misunderstanding or the one against whom you have a grievance.

FLATTERY

Deceives no one except the one who wants to be deceived.
Does most harm to him who flatters himself.
Is, after all, better than grouchiness.
Is like an artificial flower—beautiful but dead.
Is the mask that malice most frequently wears.
Is the cheapest counterfeit of appreciation.

THIS IS GETTING HOT

Three Oaks,
New Wilmington, Pa.
August 24, 1931.

Mr. Fred L. Rentz,
The New Castle News,
New Castle, Pa.

Dear Sir:—

I am not sure that I should again break into the columns of your valuable household paper for modesty has always been one of the proud boasts of my family. However, my sister Matilda Ellen is in a condition nearly approximating hysteria following the recent letter of the gentleman who signs himself Clark Rutter which appeared in your columns

The name Rutter may be a pseudonym or a nome de plume. In searching the rosters of the Old Timers he mentions I can find no mention of such a name. However it may be that he is one of our more recent citizens and if that be true, as a native born American we are charitable enough to extend to him the right hand of fellowship and aid him in learning the principles of American citizenship.

He mentions his knowledge of a bathtub and I sincerely trust that he knows their use. However, my sister and I cannot let the opportunity go by to point out to him that only last Saturday your paper carried a copy of an article by a man named Cal Hunter from Washington, Pa., who prophesies that New Wilmington will be nude by 1950.

I shudder at the prospect. Only 18 years away and the horrible possibility of nudeness upon our streets will be thrusting its ugly likeness upon us.

Mr. Rutter insists that there should be swimming pools here and there and everywhere. How would he like to live next door to a swimming pool and be forced to see young maidens disporting themselves about in costumes that would look better on a stage. True, a swimming pool might be a cleansing agent, and it possibly builds up the muscles of youths, but they can accomplish the same purpose by joining an athletic club.

Mr. Rentz, won't you congratulate your councilmen who are so nobly standing by the dear people in the refusal to build a swimming pool for the working people? If the pool would be only for working people to get clean then it would only be used on Saturday night. Further there is always the possibility of violent sunburn, bumps on the head and promiscuous conversation around a swimming pool.

In conclusion may I congratulate Mr. Rutter in his statement that he is not a candidate for office. Apparently he is one of the few for up here in New Wilmington we have been given to understand that the candidates in New Castle are going to wear badges, in order to avoid canvassing each other.

Yours very truly,

Speed Of Michigan Justice In Murder Trial Is Praised

State Which Has Rejected Capital Punishment Is Quick To Convict And Imprison Slayers, Winning Approval For Speed And Certainty

Michigan's prompt punishment of one of the most brutal murders in the history of American crime receives enthusiastic approval in other States. The brief period required for the trial is held up as an example. Some newspapers believe that life imprisonment, even without the prospect of pardon or parole, is inadequate and that the men should have been executed. Others place swiftness in the proceedings above capital punishment as a means of checking lawlessness.

"The Michigan instance shows how it can be done," declares the FORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM, suggesting: "The question is, why doesn't the law and order public rise in its might and see to it that it is done every time?" The CLEVELAND NEWS feels that "Michigan has set an example to the world," though suggesting that "it is likely that the people of the State regret in this instance the lack of a death penalty in their laws." The News says as to the proceedings in the case that "probably they represent the quickest disposition of a major criminal case in the history of the American courts."

"In Washtenaw County, Mich.," "says the NEW YORK SUN, "every official, from policemen and deputy sheriffs to the trial judge, acted promptly and expeditiously. Evidently the system is capable of working fast enough when the right men are in charge of it. The celerlity of the public officials of Washtenaw county will command approval throughout the nation." The CONNELLSVILLE DAILY COURIER thinks that "if other criminals knew with as much certainty that their trials would be conducted with as little waste of time as in the Michigan case, there would certainly be less crime."

"Out of the welter of confusion," recalls the ANN ARBOR DAILY NEWS, "emerged the killers, confessed, shackled, sentenced, imprisoned. Nothing more could be asked, since the ghastly crime could not be uncommitted. * * * It was an epic in the dispensation of justice—to the limit that was possible and allowable. And now there is time to devote a thought to the grieving families who have lost so much. Would it not be gratifying if only it were possible to remove some of the weight from the burden of sorrow? Into that darkness there is, indeed, a ray of light. Those two girls and those two boys who battled to the death out there on that lonely road died like real women and men." Of the murderers, the Ann Arbor paper declares: "They were less than human. To say that they were of low mental standard is not enough. All natural human instincts were a minus quantity in their make-up. Beasts of the jungle, in their most savage moments, would not commit such acts of wanton degeneracy."

Those who committed the crime, in the opinion of the ST. LOUIS TIMES, "are beyond the hope of corrective agencies, and their offense does not call for it if it could be applied." The Times reflects "a matter of general regret that the State's laws are such that the commonwealth cannot be purged with finality." The DANBURY EVENING NEWS holds that, while "ordinarily the ends of justice are best met by life imprisonment as punishment for murder, it is hard not to feel that the earth would be a far sweeter, more beautiful place were the three fiends who robbed, assaulted, murdered these four young people, and then set fire to their bodies, to be destroyed." The BUFFALO EVENING NEWS asks, "What are the influences that can make any animals in human form capable of such deeds?" The PROVIDENCE JOURNAL finds "spontaneous and hearty indorsement of that emotion-charged declaration by Judge Sample: 'Society has no place for them. If they should live 1,000 years, they would not be fit to come back'."

Condemnation of "attempts to substitute baptisms of unwanted and rejected laws for moral instruction and example" is voiced by the AKRON BEACON JOURNAL, with the further comment: "The harvest we reap from this errant endeavor is a wave of degeneracy, along with a rising contempt for all law, human or divine, and this to no greater degree than that which subsists in the nation's youth, frankly in rebellion against anything in the line of compulsory regulation of its acts, and in this rebellion resorting to thrills and excesses that make the very angels weep."

"Flagrant abuse of the parole system" is emphasized by the PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN, which declares that "the 22--year-old convict who was charged with instigating the quadruple murder should have been in confinement at the time of the crime, and would have been if parole systems were adequate." The NEWARK EVENING NEWS contends that "three human menaces were caught too late," observing that "we have not yet found a definite way to classify mentalities and separate hopeless degenerates." The CHARLESTON DAILY MAIL point to "a refreshing feature of the case—that no individual or organization made an attempt to make martyrs out of these criminals, as they have done in other cases which, while not quite so heinous, are still of a nature that deserves condign punishment."

"When murder or other crime is committed in Michigan," recordes the BRISTOL HERALD COURIER, "the legal machinery usually moves swiftly and surely. Probably that explains why there is as little, if not less crime in Michigan, where life imprisonment is the extreme penalty, than in States that still have capital punishment." The SCRANTON TIMES comments on the agitation in Michigan a few months ago for the adoption of the death penalty, stating: "The situation in other States where capital punishment is the law was cited and it was pointed out that in many instances jurors hesitate to impose the death penalty and frequently slayers escape with comparatively light sentences."

"It is time to strike terror into the souls of heartless criminals and to make the punishment fit the act," demands the LEXINGTON LEADER while the ROCKFORD REGISTER-REPUBLIC avers that "there is a deep-seated feeling that this atrocious crime warranted hanging or electrocution as quickly as it could be brought about." The CHARLOTTE OBSERVER thinks "it is a pretty good probability that, when the next Legislature of Michigan assembles, agitation will project itself for reconstruction of the criminal code." The Observer ranks the murder as "without parallel in the annals of the nation."

TOO MUCH "AMBISH"

There is an endless rivalry existing between the bridge and the engine room of Atlantic vessels. This has gone on ever since steam displaced the sail and is not confined to Atlantic craft but is general throughout the Seven Seas. A story ilustrating this rivalry will bear retelling.

A certain captain and his chief engineer, tired of endlessly debating with which the ship could more easily dispense, decided to swap places for a day. The chief ascended the bridge and the skipper dived into the engine room.

After a couple of hours at most the captain suddenly appeared on deck covered with oil and soot, bruised as to one eye and generally the worse for wear.

"Chief!" he called, wildly beckoning with a monkey wrench, "you will have to come down here at once. I can't seem to make her go."

"Of course you can't," said the chief, calmly removing his pipe from his mouth, "she's ashore."

THE PARENT PROBLEM

Youth Who'd Go To School Gains Most

Dr. Myers Commends Young Folks Who Have Character

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education, Cleveland College, Western Reserve University.

Not the young men and women sent to college, but those who go are going to contribute most to human welfare. That youth who has a burning zeal to go through college and the necessary mentality and qualities of character to think through a college program and beyond it through a vocational program, and has the stuff in him to stick by these programs, is the one who will profit most from higher education. Some there are with good minds, from homes favored by the necessary economic means, who also have acquired habits of work and have a driving purpose and a sense of responsibility. These get from college about the best it has to offer. They go to college; they are not sent. I fancy that for them there is more real character development than for those who by dint of poverty always had to struggle.

I know something about struggle for a college education. I suppose I carried on because I did not know any better. The habits of self-denial and hard work I had developed from early childhood. Of course, I owe a great deal to my parents for those habits; maybe everything. I have a notion that I would have got more from college had I not been forced to make quite so great sacrifice. There is a deal of satisfaction from earning one's own way through college; with it is a feeling of victory. But there is a stage of struggle beyond which come lessening returns.

I did not have enough fun and play at college. I did not get enough socially. If I had, while at college, done less for money, and had instead, evtended my college period over more years, taking one or two years off to earn the necessary money, the results might have been better. Of course I do not know. Having set out to earn, I might have failed to return to college to finish the work.

For those students waiting on tables, caring for furnaces, and doing countless other jobs, while at college, I naturally have a vast deal of respect. Some, however, feel themselves forced to do too much. They have undertaken the program without knowing what is ahead and, having once launched upon it, carry on, neglecting their health or their studies, or social life, or all of them. They may be always tired. Some break down under the strain. A few colleges and universities are now wisely limiting the number of credit hours a student doing much regular outside work is allowed to take.

That student who has worked out a program safe for his mental and social health, acquiring good habits of work, spending his money wisely, making reasonable self-sacrifices, keeping in close touch with his family who also has been sacrificing with him, gets, as a rule, a high degree of personal satisfaction. Whether at college or at home that program is best when all work together, none leaning too heavily upon any other family member. Think then of the pleasures to the home folk who care most. I can think of no richer joys to parents than those which come from seeing their sons and daughters going through college or fitting themselves for life in a way that is worthy of the sacrifices and ambitions of these parents.

A word about the student at college who sets himself too high standards of school achievements. He might be very healthy and happy as an average student, whereas to try to climb to the level of the upper 10 or 20 per cent of his class might cost him far too much. What is left when health is lost?

Star Lore

EQUINOCTIAL STORM A FALLACY

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter

Many people believe that there is a definite storm commonly known as the "Equinoctial storm," caused by the sun crossing the equator Sept. 23; that his particular position of the sun at the Equinox actually brings a great three-day storm within a day of two of the Equinox. But the facts do not bear it out. There is seldom a year when such a storm occurs within a day or two of the Equinox. However, at this season of the year that stand in sharp contrast with the summer type of storm—sultry weather and thunder storms. At this time winter type storms develop. But winter type storms do also occur in summer.

SHEEP-DIP BASE natura
(Black, biting, harsh irritant chemicals)
present in every tobacco !

"They're out—so they can't be in!"

The finest tobacco quality plus throat protection.

Every LUCKY STRIKE is made of the finest tobacco leaves the world can offer—the finest from Turkey—the finest from Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, Georgia and the Carolinas—the Cream of many Crops throughout the world. But all tobacco leaves, regardless of price and kind, as nature produces them, contain harsh irritants. LUCKY STRIKE'S exclusive "TOASTING" Process—a process that mellows, that purifies, that includes the use of the modern Ultra Violet Ray—expels certain harsh irritants naturally present in every tobacco leaf. We sell these expelled irritants to manufacturers of chemical compounds, who use them as a base in making sheep-dip*, as well as a powerful spraying solution for trees, flowers and shrubs—enough to permit the daily dipping of over 50,000 sheep or the daily spraying of many thousands of trees. Thus, you are sure these irritants, naturally present in all tobacco leaves, are not in your LUCKY STRIKE. "They're out—so they can't be in!"

No wonder LUCKIES are always kind to your throat.

Other pads may look like Kotex

but how are they made? . . . where? . . . by whom? You have a right to know.

WHEN a substitute claims to be "just like Kotex," ask where it is made. How. By whom.

You will find the claim "like Kotex" usually means the pad merely looks like Kotex. That's not enough, when health is involved, as it is in your choice of sanitary protection. Demand the hygiene of Kotex. The absolute purity of Kotex.

There's one way to be sure. Get genuine Kotex . . . accept no substitute of whose makers you know nothing. Kotex is the world's standard. Hospitals used over ten million pads last year. It is made with hospital care and cleanliness.

Kotex stays soft for hours. Shaped to fit. Adjustable. May be worn on either side with safety. Disposable, of course.

Can't Crash Gate Of Vim, Vigor, Vitality

"As is well known, the term 'crashing the gate' has a very definite meaning at large social gatherings and other exclusive functions. It is merely a way of bluffing one's way into select company without having been invited. And while this method has oft times been successful, it most decidedly has its limitations," said Doctor Theodore B. Appel, state secretary of health, today.

"For example, there is no possible chance of crashing the gate to that super-select crowd of persons who are surcharged with enviable vim vigor and vitality. Old Dame Nature, who runs that show, effectively sees to that. Albeit, this fact is not sufficiently appreciated by thousands of persons, judging by their actions.

"Consider that vast army of people who over a period of years deliberately devitalize their system by indulging in all sorts and types of excesses, get sick in consequence and then attempt to crash the gate thru the purchase of a bottle of tonic or some pink pills, or even by a visit or two to the doctor's office.

"These people, entirely ignoring the fact that they have ostracized themselves from the aristocracy of prime health by means of a long drawn out process, illogically conclude that the damage of years can be remedied in a few days, and that a few gulps of tonic or a few kindly words of the doctor will promptly restore them to pristin physical condition. Inevitably they are doomed to disappointment. Nature doesn't work that way. She will in no wise countenance any gate crashing conduct.

"The average person originally possesses all the qualifications to get in and stay in 'smart' health society. Therefore, the first concern should be to maintain one's position by proper living habits.

"If, on the other hand, one has foolishly turned his back upon his birthright and has become ill because of foolish conduct, then patience and good head work should prevail.

"In such a case one should place himself under the care of a doctor, follow his advice strictly, stick to the fundamental rules laid down by nature and bide his time. To attempt to hurry up recuperation is hazardous. Therefore, don't try to crash the gate. For it can't be done."

EASY AND ECONOMICAL TO MAKE COOL DRINKS AT HOME

Refresh yourself with a sweetened drink. The Sugar Institute.

Lemons, oranges, tea, coffee, chocolate, also syrups from canned fruits, can be used as a flavor base for delicious cool drinks. In sweetening these beverages nothing takes the place of sugar. And refined cane sugar is the recognized standard everywhere.

Cool drinks sweetened to taste are most refreshing. Think of this when you are tired as well as hot.

RICHES TO NIPPON GIRL

Fuji Hashimoto, tiny sloe-eyed daughter of Japan, the Flowery Kingdom, will inherit more than a quarter million of dollars from the estate of the late William B. Adamson, Haverford, Pa., millionaire, her foster father. Fuji, 19-year old daughter of Japanese servants, was left in this country when her parents left the Adamson household to return to their native land. Adamson adopted the little girl in 1930, and she has been educated in American schools. According to the Adamson will a trust fund of $300,000 has been created for her.

When Messrs. Herndon and Pangborn return home, we must be careful not to welcome them too wildly. Japan might think we were cheering them for taking those photographs of Japanese fortifications.—The Worcester Daily Telegram.

Raise Big Crops At George Junior

One Of Best Crop Years In Some Time Reported By Superintendent Brunner

GROVE CITY, Aug. 25.—At the George Junior Republic, the best crops in 20 years are announced today by Superintendent Earl B. Brunner. Here 66-juvenile citizens are dependent entirely on their own efforts for a living. All of the monster harvest will be utililized including 1400 heads of cabbage, 150 bushels of dried corn and 1500 bushels of field corn, 500 bushel of potatoes and 150 bushel of beets and tomatoes.

Hay and grain crops in like proportion with a peak of 110 tons of silage corn ready for cutting means a like prosperity for the 34 head of milk cows.

There are 210 acres under cultivation. All of the work is done by the 38 boy citizens while the 28 girls find daily pursuit in canning.

TO EMPLOY ENGINEER

There have been interesting developments in the Union Heat and Light Company case it is learned from borough officials. Council will employ very soon a valuation engineer who will appraise the plant of the company. This prefaces a case before the Public Service Commission it is said.

The matter comes up on petition of citizens asking that 60 cent monthly service charge be discontinued. City officials who are in touch with the situation are very optimistic of winning their case.

PLAYGROUND CIRCUS

A playground circus for the 100 children that have undergone a course of training during the summer months was held today.

The event closes the activity of the grounds for the summer. Big top events are carded for taking place under the direction of Miss Roberta Melchor in charge of the work and her aids, Ruth Moore, Marion Duncan and James Graham.

The acts that will be presented have been carefully rehearsed by the children.

Junior Circle To Have Corn Roast

Arrangements Being Made For Event At Cascade On Wednesday

Possibly there is no more popular Junior organization in the city than the Junior Circle of New Castle Circle No. 5 Protected Home Circle. A feature in the social life of these young people is the many and frequent delightful events arranged for the Juniors by their assistant counsellor Mrs. Hazel Hicks.

The recent hike to Castle Beach will be a red letter day for the Juniors, where a weiner and marshmallow roast with stunts were enjoyed, on Wednesday evening the Junior Circle will be hosts to members, their families and friends of the senior circle at a corn and weiner roast held at Cascade Park when a large number are looking forward to a delightful affair sponsored by their young friends—time seven thirty o'clock—come—

Beauty Contest To Feature Firemen's Annual Convention

Local Department Men Prepare For Annual Frolic At Conneaut August 29-30

Final preparations are under way to make the first annual convention of the Northern Pennsylvania Firemen's association, of which the New Castle fire department is a member, one of the most successful in the history of firemen's gatherings in this district.

The big frolic to which firemen from all of Northern Pennsylvania look forward will be held at Conneaut Lake Park, August 29 and 30.

There will be a firemen's ball, sight seeing trips, contests for the visiting firemen, water battles, airplane stunts and entertainment for the firemen's families.

One of the attractions of the gathering will be a beauty contest, with entries representing cities whose fire departments send representatives to the firemen's convention. The contestants who will represent the various fire departments are now being chosen. The climax to the contest will be in the selection of "Miss Conneaut Lake Park."

Fire Chief Charles H. Lynn and Fireman Frank Robinson are the local department's representatives on the general committee of arrangements for the convention. They announce that the local representative in the beauty contest will be announced in a short time.

There are indications that the local department will have a good representation at the convention.

LOOKING BACK

IN NEW CASTLE

The Erie extension canal completed between Beaver and New Castle in November of 1833 was largely a slackwater proposition a great deal similar to that proposed for the same district, as well as the Mahoning and Shenango rivers at the present time. There were some five or six dams built on the Beaver river, making slackwater navigation. The channel of the river was largely used in this way instead of a separate canal. There was one dam on the Shenango and one on the Neshannock, within the borough limits of New Castle, and the canal passed through the southern part of the original town plot, along what is now or rather immediately to the north side of South street, from the Shenango river to the Neshannock creek, a distance of something over a quarter of a mile. In November of 1835 there occurred what has generally been called the great flood. The west end of the canal dam in the Shenango river was swept away and the land below, owned and occupied at one time by Cornelius and Daniel Hendrickson, was also carried away to a great extent, including the site of Daniel Hendrickson's home. An island was formed where the west end of the old bridge stood, necessitating the construction of an additional bridge over the enlarged channel of the Shenango river at West Washington street, which was constructed in 1837. The dam was rebuilt the previous year. In 1837 the Erie extension canal was located and put under contract from New Castle to Erie.

PRINTER'S DEVIL LIKES HIS BANANAS

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Aug. 25.—Albert Giles, a "devil" in a newspaper office, yesterday demonstrated some "iron man" qualities when he ate 18 bananas in 10 minutes. They were his noon lunch and he finished out the day without noticing any serious effects. In fact, he added the 19th when he found a stray one lying on a table in the composing room a short time later. Giles offered to "eat the skins" if his audience would guarantee him a collection.

Family Saved Old Stamps, Now They Are Valuable

Three Decades Of Family Saved All Postage Stamps; Collection Worth Money

Pennsylvania State News Letter
(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 25.—James Wright, 54-year old coal miner of Library, near here, "had a habit" of saving old letters and postage stamps. So did his father and his father's father before him.

And Wright was astounded when he learned that he had a stamp collection for which a New York dealer cheerfully offered $45,000. Astounded that is, until he began to check over his possessions. Then he valued them at $100,000.

"Since 1800," the miner said, "my ancestors and myself have had a habit of saving letters and postage stamps. Now I find our efforts to save those relics proved more than sentimental. The habit seems to have turned into a good business and I find myself possessed of a small fortune."

Value of his collection, Wright said, came to him when a Pittsburgh nunismatist declared a stamped letter, written before 1835 and destroyed by a small boy to whom it had been given in a stamp trade, was worth $15,000. The letter, Wright explained, was stamped with a stencil as was customary before paper postage stamps were in use.

"I have letters dating back to 1800," the miner said. "No envelopes, just letters folded and stamped with a stencil marked 'three cents paid'. I have also a large number of stamps which date back to the beginning of the postage stamp era."

Since becoming aware of the value of his collection Wright has kept in a safe deposit vault at a bank, where the precious stamps and documents are safe against fire and theft.

SACRED HEARTS MEET TONIGHT

In Mexican Jail

Edward Willys Miller, an American rancher, born near Independence, Kas., is held in Belen prison, in Mexico City, on a charge of murdering Serapio Ramirez, Mexican, and wounding his brother, Pascual Ramirez, in what is termed an inter-ranch feud. Photo shows Miller in jail after he confessed.

Governor White Suggests Delay In Coal Parley

Ohio Governor Suggests Proposed Tri-State Coal Conference Be Postponed

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 25—Gov. George White of Ohio today suggester that a proposed tri-state coal conference of the governors of Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio be delayed pending action of the national administration.

Governor White remarked:

"In view of the fact that President Hoover has taken up the general coal situation and plans to hold a conference on the subject, I feel that the conference of governors suggested could be delayed until it is known whether or not the conference, if held, is able to work out a program which promises to relieve the present situation."

His statement was interpreted as not closing the door to a conference between himself and the governors of Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

Late Widow Leaves Money For Miners

Late Belle La Follette, Widow Of Famous Senator Leaves Miners $10

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 25—A death bed contribution of $10 for the relief of hungry miners was made by the late Belle LaFollette, widow of Senator Robert LaFollette, it was revealed today at the headquarters of the miner's relief fund of the Socialist party.

With the money was a letter written in longhand by Mrs. LaFollette in which she said she "was glad to make such contribution as she was able, to a worthy cause." At the same time she declined to act as a member of the national committee of the miner's relief fund because of her desire to remain out of public life.

May Alleviate Flood Situation

Gilfillan And Abel Accept Flood Water Alleviation Plan Of City

Councilmen today reported that J. Clyde Gilfillan and John Abel, the latter representing Paul J. and Mary E. Ellsworth, Wilmington avenue, had agreed to accept the city's plan for checking flood waters on their lands when solons reconvened yesterday afternoon. During the morning session the agreement was refused.

Under the agreement the city will build a storm sewer which will cost about $150.00 from the rear of their properties to connect with the Wilmington avenue storm sewer. However, the city will not adopt it as a part of the New Castle storm sewer system.

W. C. T. U. Annual Conference Soon

Splendid Program Has Been Prepared For The Thirty-Seventh Annual Conference

The thirty seventh annual convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Lawrence county will meet Thursday, September 10, at 10:15 a. m. in the Central Presbyterian church.

The official board will meet at 9:45 with Miss Margaret S. Walker, president of the county, presiding.

A splendid program of reports and speakers has been planned for the afternoon session.

It becomes increasingly evident that go-getters were merely set-and-pick-it-uppers.

Ask Contractor To Hurry Work

Mayor Believes Night Turn On East Washington Street Necessary

Mayor William H. Gillespie today stated he had requested commissioners of Lawrence county to have W. E. Ferry, contractor have his employes work at night on the East Washington street bridge which spans the Neshannock creek so that the thoroughfare can be opened to traffic as soon as possible.

Traffic is being detoured east via Neshannock avenue and South Water street.

The pier has been repaired but Ferry's workmen today were knocking down the concrete rail.

Pennsy Officers Trail Abductors

Two Mexicans Hunted Today For Disappearance Of Lowellville Girl

Believed abductors of a 16-year-old Lowellville, O., girl, the daughter of a Pennsylvania railroad section man living there, two unknown Mexicans were the object of a concentrated search of Ohio police and Pennsylvania railroad officers of the E. & A. division today.

The men are thought responsible for the disappearance from Lowellville of the young daughter of Larry Carrosci. Railroad police did not learn of the girl's first name.

Captain of Police W. E. Gastinger, stationed at the division office building here, hurried to Niles shortly before noon, when word came that the men wanted were understood to be in that vicinity. Other Pennsy patrolmen in that section were conducting a search.

The girl, police said, disappeared from her home last Friday.

Attend Funeral At Warren, Pa.

Mother Of Mrs. H. M. Culbertson Of Seventh Ward Passes Away Last Week

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Culbertson of West Madison avenue, accompanied by sons Earl and Howard arrived home Saturday from Warren, Pennsylvania, where they attended the funeral of Mrs. Mathilda Johnson, mother of Mrs. Culbertson.

Mrs. Johnson was born in Sweden February 28th, 1857, coming to this country in 1891. She has lived in Warren and vicinity for the past forty years, being a member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church during this time. Her death came as a result of a broken arm combined with an ailing heart. The broken arm was a result of falling from her front porch about nine o'clock Tuesday evening, August 11th. She was taken to the Warren General hospital where she died three-thirty Wednesday morning, August 19th.

She is survived by her husband Emil Johnson, four daughters, Mrs. Harry Culbertson, New Castle, Pa.; Mrs. H. W. Johnson, Mrs. Emil Carlson, and Mrs. Charles Lewis, Warren, Pa.; two sons, Axel and Oscar Johnson, Warren, Pa.; thirteen grand-children and two great grandchildren.

Many beautiful floral offerings showed the high esteem in which relatives, friends, and neighbors held Mrs. Johnson.

New Castle Man Seeks Custody Of His Children

Suit Is Filed In Pittsburgh Court By John N. Crombie Of This City

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 25.—John N. Crombie, 421 Winter avenue, New Castle, assistant manager of the Shenango Works of the American Sheet & Tin Plate Company, today had on file a suit in habeas corpus through which he seeks to gain the custody of his two children, John N. Crombie, Jr., 9, and Mary Louise, 3, Judge James H. Gray fixed August 28 for a hearing.

The suit is directed against his former wife, Kathleen C. Crombie, 34, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Coll, of Main Entrance Drive, Mt. Lebanon. The Crombies were divorced last April 24. The petition of the New Castle man averred the mother had custody of the daughter and the father of the son until last Friday when Mrs. Crombie allegedly took the lad to her parents' home.

State Improves Dirt Roads Here

Three Roads Taken Over By State Are Being Repaired With Gravel, Limestone

The state's recent action in taking over many miles of rural dirt roads, a boon to the farmer, will become of intestimable importance in Lawrence county where the State Department of Highways is at present engaged in improving three roads.

The dirt roads in this county now being improved with gravel, limestone and other material to make a considerable improvement over the crude dirt roads follow:

Nearly two miles of the road between New Bedford and the Mercer county line.

From Route 265 to the Ohio state line, three and a tenth miles.

Francis corners thru Fayette, two and a half miles.

According to local superintendent of road maintainance, H. W. Lightner, the state work will be completed here in about a month.

OFFICIALS SILENT ON LONDON CHARGE AGAINST BANKERS

tem before expanding the original credit of $250,000,000, or making new committments. That these suggestions had to do with the Dole, which is one of the greatest items in the British budget, is generally acknowledged. The Dole has been draining more and more money out of the British treasury despite the rather weak efforts of the MacDonald government to check it.

Officials pointed out that there is nothing usual in such a procedure, either in diplomatic or banking practices. It is done all the time.

During the centuries that London was the world's banking capital, British bankers did not hesitate to exact reforms in other governments before extending credit. Financial history is replete with such instances.

Damages British Prestige.

That the present case is damaging to British prestige is acknowledged here. That Great Britain, which banked the world for years and insisted upon terms to her liking, should now be in the position of a supplicant for international credit is admittedly a hard blow to British pride. But conditions have changed, and London is no longer the world's banking capital. That has shifted to New York.

If the terms insisted upon by officials of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York created a division in British politics that is regarded here as an unfortunate outgrowth in the matter—but one which is none of this government's business.

There is, as a matter of fact, keen regret in administration quarters over the downfall of the Labor government, although this regret is tempered by the fact that Premier MacDonald apparently is to continue in office at the head of a Coalition cabinet.

By OTTO D. TOLISCHUS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Aug. 25.—While Prime Minister James Ramsay MacDonald, with the aid of Stanley Baldwin and Sir Herbert Samuel, leaders of the Conservative and Liberal parties respectively, were putting the final touches on the new National Coalition cabinet, the London Daily Herald burst a bomb-shell today with the charge that American bankers were dictating the internal policies of Great Britain.

In a leading article, the Herald, official organ of the Labor party, declared without reserve that the attitude of American bankers with respect to Britain's credit was directly responsible for the resignation of the Labor cabinet and the appointment of a non-party Coalition in its stead.

The charge of American domination of British politics caused a nation-wide sensation. Premier MacDonald was expected to make some sort of an answer in a radio broadcast tonight. With the exception of the Herald, the press unanimously endorses the new government and lauds MacDonald for his statesmanlike course of action.

"Last night," declared the Daily Herald, "it was announced that the Federal Reserve Bank of New York was prepared to extend further large credits to the Bank of England.

"Behind this news lies the amazing fact that the late government was informed by the Federal Reserve that such credits would only be granted provided specific and considerable economies were at once made in the administration or in actual benefits paid under the unemployment insurance scheme.

"This virtual ultimatum by New York bankers played a vital part in dividing the late cabinet on the issue of a ten per cent. reduction in unemployment benefits.

"Insistence by the Bank of England that it had no need of credits even on these terms—heightened the existing clash within the cabinet. It has been made absolutely clear that credit will not be forthcoming unless and until measures which United States bankers consider satisfactory are put into operation by the new cabinet."

The Herald reiterated the statement made by the London Times yesterday that the credit of $250,000,000 recently granted to the Bank of England by the Bank of France and the Federal Reserve Bank of the United States is "almost exhausted."

Prominent bankers refused to discuss the Herald's charges for publication, but there was no question the article caused considerable embarrassment in the financial district. It was generally admitted, unofficially of course, that American banks had demanded some change in the administration or in the cabinet's policies before extending new credit.

With this demand answered by overthrow of the Labor cabinet, the new ministry was expected to embark immediately upon an attempt to convert the existing short term credits into long-term loans instead of asking new credits.

Ohio Convicts Duplicate Tags

Make Double Sets Of License Plates Investigation Shows

LISBON, O., Aug. 25.—State Commissioner of Motor Vehicles Chalmers R. Wilson at Columbus, was advised today by Columbiana county authorities of the discovery of evidence indicating there is some foundation to the report that duplicate auto license plates are being made by convicts in the state penitentiary, where all tags are manufactured.

When a set of tags was sold here, the official number on the envelope was 752-310, but an examination showed but one plate of that number and another bearing the number 752-340. Investigation showed the envelope bearing the official number 752-340 also contained two plates of that number.

Warden Thomas recently was informed that convicts were making duplicate auto tags and smuggling them outside to their friends.

Child Killed In Fall On Bottle

Piece From Broken Milk Bottle Pierces Greenville Tot's Heart

GREENVILLE, Pa., Aug. 25.—Robert, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Davis, 42 Union street, was fatally injured Monday when he fell on a broken milk bottle in the basement of his home. A piece of the bottle pierced his heart, causing almost instant death.

The child had started down the basement stairway with two pints of milk in his hands. He stumbled and fell, dropping the bottles, which were shattered on the concrete floor of the cellar. The child's body took the same course and his chest struck the broken bottles. He sustained two puncture wounds, one of which pierced the membrane between the ribs and continued through to the edge of his heart.

PITTSBURGH MAN RESIGNS PLACE IN PINCHOT CABINET

as to his reason for refusing to endorse McGovern at Pinchot's request. It said in part:

"I told you on Tuesday, the 18th, when you asked me to endorse McGovern that I could not do so, because of many reasons, some of which you were very definitely aware of. Because I knew he was supposed to be a friend of yours, and further because I thought, for helping to bring about a better political condition in Allegheny county, I have earnestly and honestly done all I could to bring myself to the position of heartily endorsing and supporting him for commissioner. I sat in, by invitation, at conferences with McGovern and other gentlemen on several occasions for the purpose of discussing this matter, and much of what went on at the conference was given out in an indirect way, apparently for the purpose of making him the one outstanding immaculate gentleman and casting innuendoes on others.

Would Not Agree

"I have heard him criticize other public officials for doing certain things, and then do similar things to a greater extent himself. I was asked at some of the conferences by him and others present to do certain things and interview certain people, and after these matters and interviews had been taken care of in an apparently satisfactory manner to all concerned, I found that they were being secretely upset for the purpose of making McGovern stand out as the only absolute, honest independent citizen. There was positively no chance to work out agreements, as he would not agree. You and I, and others connected with the administration, have been able to co-operate with each other. McGovern, in my opinion, absolutely lacks and degree of co-operation on any subject, unless he positively dominates the persons and the situations."

The Malone letter hinted broadly that Pinchot, by continued absence from Harrisburg, had evaded a showdown discussion of McGovern's qualifications for the post he seeks and his ability as a politician.

McGovern, Malone charged, has hinted broadly that he would be able to drive the secretary into line because of the cabinet place which he held."

"This is an extremely sad and serious situation when it involves men in public office," Malone said and then made it plain that he preferred to get out of the cabinet rather than obey a Pinchot demand for political endorsements.

"I regret Secretary Malone's resignation," the Pinchot statement said. "He has done admirable work in the department of property and supplies and his absence from that department will be felt keenly. Walter G. Scott, deputy secretary, will be acting secretary until further orders .

By LEO V. DOLAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 25.—The resignation of James F. Malone from the Pinchot cabinet, and its accompanying repudiation of Charles C. McGovern, ardent Pinchot supporter, created consternation and confusion in Allegheny county (Pittsburgh) political circles today.

Jubilant adherents of McGovern's opponents in the four-phase race for the post of county commissioner immediately went into a huddle in an attempt to "dope" just what effect the widely publicized resignation would have on "Fighting Buck Mcgovern's" political future.

McGovern, generally credited with insuring Pinchot's nomination thru a personal three-night vigil over the primary ballot boxes in Pittsburgh, is questing vigorously on a "clean-up" campaign for one of the two available commissionerships. The other candidates are State Senators William D. Mansfield and James J. Coyne and County Commissioner Joseph G. Armstrong.

But Malone and McGovern worked like Trojans for the election of Pinchot. All the prestige and organization built up through Malone's candidacy in a futile fight for the mayoralty post in Pittsburgh two years ago were thrown behind the Pinchot candidacy.

First effects of the Malone resignation, and especially its politely sarcastic references to McGovern, were difficult to define here because of the utter confusion into which political leaders were thrown.

McGovern admittedly has a fight on his hands in his candidacy for the commissionership. Reports of a coming "hook-up" between McGovern and Mansfield have been widespread but the reports have not been confirmed nor has the promised pooling of interest by the two candidates eventuated. Mansfield has maintained a strict silence regarding the rumors. The question in political circles here upon receipt of Malone's resignation was whether the astute McKeesport senator had sensed that the rift between Malone and McGovern would result in today's startling develpoment and had maintained his noncommital attitude.

Efforts to reach McGovern for comment were unavailing .He was understood to be touring Allegheny county on a stumping tour but had not been reached by eager newspapermen early this afternoon.

McGovern Sarcastic.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 25.—A succinct and sarcastic statement from Charles C. McGovern, Allegheny county commissioner, greeted news of the resignation of James F. Malone from the cabinet of Governor Pinchot today.

McGovern said:

"The conduct of Mr. Malone, his disloyalty to his friends of many years' standing—not to me—and the disapproval of his actions by the great mass of people has probably been more the cause of his resignation than anything else I can think of at this moment."

Couple To Receive $20 After Dancing Continuously For Three Months

UNIONTOWN, Pa. Aug. 25—Dance marathoning in the Shady Grove event proved most unprofitable to "Bonnie" Johnson and "Jimmy" Barrett, both of Chicago, who will be paid less than a cent an hour for the 2,112 hours they danced for an award of $500 to be distributed among the last six couples on the floor.

Bonnie collapsed on the floor and was carried to the temporary hospital at the close of the two thousand and one hundred and twelfth hour. Her dancing mate automatically was disqualified. For the long days and nights of dancing covering nearly three months, they will receive $20 each according to their statement.

The two are professional dancers Three amateur and two pro-couples remain in the competition.

Golden Eagle Is Killed By Farmer

TARENTUM, Aug. 25—A golden eagle was shot and killed recently by a farmer of the Tarentum district after a futile attempt by the bird to carry off a large shephard dog.

The eagle, a rare bird, dropped the dog after rising a few feet from the ground, circled the farm and swooped down after a chicken. The farmer shot the bird with the chicken in its claws.

The eagle protected in this state, was turned over to Ralph A. Liphart of the State Game Commission. It has a wing spread of nearly 73 inches.

College Senior Goes To Central America

Westminster Girl To Teach In Guatemala During Coming Year

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Aug. 25.—Teaching positions may be scarce for college graduates in the United States; but they are scarcer to college seniors. But Miss Margaret Miller, Santa Fe, New Mexico, a senior in this year's class at Westminster college, has found a teaching position and has left to assume her new duties, through she does not have a college diploma.

Miss Miller, who transferred to Westminster from Stanford university last year, will teach school in Guatemala, Central American republic, during the coming year. She has completed her junior year of college, and may, after a year or two of experience in Guatemala, return and take her college degree at Westminster. The position which Miss Miller has is a governmental appointment, so comes as a distinct honor.

Miss Miller was during the early part of the summer employed in the college office here where she was kept busy as a secretary answering the many letters sent in by prospective students. She is a member of Kappa Delta sorority, and was active in journalism while at Stanford.

LANCASTER, Pa., Aug. 25—Once cultivated by Indians who roamed the region, now by the ordinary American farmer, hundreds of acres of rich farm lands near here soon will disappear beneath the swirling waters of the Susquehanna river.

More than a score of picturesque islands, ranging from mere sand bars to plots of 40 and 50 acres that dot the stream of several miles will be inundated with the closing of the gates of the gigantic Safe Harbor hydroelectric power dam, fast nearing completion below here. Erection of the dam will create an artificial lake, several miles in extent.

Workmen employed by the company developing the power site already are busy clearing trees and buildings from the islands. Engineers intend to level them to the ground, to avoid difficulty with navigation on the artificial lake.

Power company representatives are buying properties on the islands and for several miles along both banks of the river, which will be inundated to a depth of several feet. On the York county side, the Long Level Property Owners Association has been formed to see that landowners are reimbursed for ground which will be covered with water.

Summer homes have been built on many of the islands while others have been turned into veritable farms producing tobacco, corn, melons, and other farm and garden crops. The soil of the isles is very fertile and many of them are exceptionally well suited for truck farming.

Title to a number of the islands was granted by the Commonwealth years ago on application by the common law owners who were able to present surveys showing the land was a certain height above the low water level.

In some cases, it is believed, title never passed officially from the state although the land has been nominally owned and occupied by tenants whose rights were respected and upheld in the region.

The bureau of census claims that one person is born every 36 seconds in this country.

Suichiro Tsuda, Japanese national marathon champion, is first foreign track and field star to arrive in the United States for the 1932 Olympic games. Tsuda is already in training in Los Angeles.

Deduct Taxes From Payrolls

(International News Service)

PHILLIPSBURG, N. J., Aug. 25.—M. B. Bercaw, town collector here, found an unusual method of collecting delinquent taxes. Phillipsburg is installing a system of storm sewers. Bercaw, investigating, found that many of the workmen engaged in the project were delinquent in taxes for last year.

So he attached the payroll and held up the workers' checks until the back taxes were deducted and paid to the town.

Rich St. Louis Heiress Marries Childhood Lover

Girl Worth $51,000,000 Weds Childhood Sweetheart After Elopment In Illinois

(International News Service)

WAUKEGAN, Ill., Aug. 25—One of the richest heiresses in the world, the former Miss Mary Sue McCullough, 18, was today honey-mooning with Whipple Van Ness Jones, 21, a Harvard University student, to whom she was married here yesterday.

Childhood sweethearts, Jones and Miss McCullough eloped from their summer homes at Oconomowoc, Wis. and obtained a license to wed at the Waukegan courthouse. Justice of the Peace Harry Hoyt performed the cememony. There were no attendants.

The bride is heiress to the $51,000,000 estate of John I. Beggs, utilities magnate. Both she and her husband are residents of St. Louis.

Although the engagement of the couple had not been announced, the parents admitted they had expected their children would marry each other "in due time."

Prisoners Doted On Job Of Gilding Dome

(International News Service)

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 25.—During a general renovation program at the Rhode Island State prison here, Warden Ralph H. Walker wanted the prison dome gilded and started in search of two prisoners who could do the job.

Finding two of his boys who wanted to "get up in the world," one of whom was up for parole, they went to work on the dome with gusto. They liked the job so well that they were sorry that the prison did not have more domes to gild.

Before finishing the dome, the prisoner who was "up for parole" told the warden that if he was granted the parole he would like to remain in prison and finish the job.

The parole board met and denied the application for parole, unaware of the prisoner's aspirations.

And the prisoners gilded merrily on.

She Chops Wood, Finds Life Good

(International News Service)

DENVER, Aug. 25.—Ponce de Leon may have been looking for a job chopping wood when he marched through Florida in search of the fountain of eternal youth.

Mrs. Sophia Carlson, 95-year-old Denver woman, has found in the daily ritual of the woodpile a cure for many of the weaknesses of old age.

Each day she reduces a large pile of wood to kindling dimensions. She has been chopping wood daily for years. Her firm voice, unfaltering step and keenness of intellect belie her advanced age.

Mrs. Carlson also sews, cleans house and washes the dishes. Her favorite amusement is reading and she reads her Bible daily. She has made no resolutions to reach the century mark, but finds life full of beauty and interest.

Diamond Deposits Found In Colorado

(International News Service)

BRECKENRIDGE, Colo., Aug. 25.—This little mining community, long the scene of extensive gold dredging operations along the Blue river, recently became excited over the reported discovery of diamonds.

The discovery was made by Mrs. Nellie Graham, minerologist and petrologist for the Oklahoma state museum, who found what she believes are Diamond deposits near here.

The deposits correspond in every respect to the diamond beds found in Arkansas, Mrs. Graham declares. Further tests are being made.

(International News Service)

JEANNETTE, Pa., Aug. 25.—Victim of a poison draught, Mrs. Samuel Becker, 42, was dead at her home here today. Domestic difficulties prompted the woman to take her life according to Deputy Coroner B. Frank Painter.

BRITISH FLYER RACES IN DERBY

Miss Winifred E. Spooner

One of Great Britain's leading feminine flyers, Miss Winifred E. Spooner, raced against time to reach the United States to be one of the contestants in the women's division of the National Sweepstakes Transcontinental Air Derby, which starts at Santa Monica, Cal., August 23, and terminates at Cleveland August 30, as part of the 1931 National Air races, which are held in Cleveland, August 29-September 7. Her airplane has a top speed of 110 miles an hour. Miss Spooner has a fine air record.

CHAMPIONS' COSTUMES ARE CHIC

The great championship finals in any sport are lessons in chic as far as the costumes of the players are concerned. Women tennis champions incline more and more to the one-piece frock, trim as a racing yacht. They are sleeveless, the bodice slenderly though never tightly fitted. The natural waistline is defined and belted and the skirt fits smoothly around the top of the hips, begins to flare high, but flares gradually by means of pleats, gores or reduced circular cutting. A Lelong tennis frock is sketched.

Mexican Indians Teach Their People

(International News Service)

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 25.—With 150 graduates already working as rural school teachers among their own Indian tribes, 215 Indian youths are at present attending the House of the Indian Student in Mexico City. Later they will carry culture and modernity to their people in various sections of the republic.

The House of the Indian Student was founded during the administration of General Plutarco Elias Calles, as part of the program of the Revolutionary Government to raise the standard of living of the native Indian.

Stress is placed at the House of the Indian Student, of which Prof. Enrique Corona is the director, on physical education, and the students ranging from 13 years upward, may be seen playing basketball or soccer football nearly any day of the week.

Painting, in which art most of the Mexican Indians have a natural talent, is developed by permitting the student to pursue his own tastes and styles, thus forstering spontaneous originality. Music is encouraged, open air dramatics are provided and many trades are taught.

Postal Department Probes Inventions

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 25.—Postal officials have been asked to examine and test a "non-sinkable mail bag" and a "fireproof, automatic, self-releasing mail room," both the inventions of Columbus men.

The mail bag, an invention of William E. Berry, has been tested in rivers where it was floated with 640 pounds of concrete and magazines in it.

The mail room can be built into a dirigible, airplane or ocean liner and is so constructed that should it be thrown into water the fireproof exterior releases and sinks, while the remainder of the "room" floats with the mail bags. The mail room was invented by Michael Vukovich.

Patents have been granted on both appliances.

Self-Made Man Not Equipped, Says Board

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—The Federal Board for Vocational Education apparently thinks little of the self-made man for this is what it said in a statement describing the expansion of vocational training in the Philippines:

"But, as we in this country have discovered long ago, the man who learns a trade without help of a school remains almost totally ignorant of the priceless body of trade information in processes and mechanical theory which he can get through no other source but a vocational school."

Remove Pin From Throat Of Girl

YORK, Pa., Aug. 25.—Lodged in the throat of June Fix for a week, an open safety pin was removed by Dr. C. F. Fackler at York Hospital.

The child, her parents said, swallowed the pin why playing on the floor at her home. X-rays disclosed the pin after the girl complained of pain when swallowing.

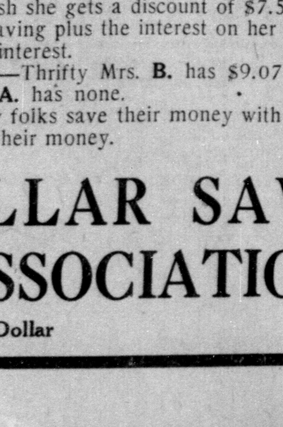
U.B.Thrifty says-



Your Money Can Earn 30 Per Cent Interest

The Story is This:—

Mrs. A. buys an article for $75.00 on "installments" payable monthly, because it is so "easy" to pay that way, having a year to pay for it.

Mrs. B. prefers to pay cash and instead of buying now opens an account at the DOLLAR SAVINGS ASSOCIATION, paying $1.50 per week for 50 weeks and gets 5% interest on her money, equalling $1.57.

She then takes her check which she gets at the end of the 50 weeks and makes her purchase, and because she pays cash she gets a discount of $7.50.

This saving plus the interest on her savings nets her over 15% interest.

Result—Thrifty Mrs. B. has $9.07 extra to spend while Mrs. A. has none.

Thrifty folks save their money with us and get 5% interest on their money.

Tri-State Conference On Coal Crisis Seems To Meet With Favor

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 25.—Definite crystallization of sentiment in favor of a proposed bituminous coal conference between the governors of Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia was noted today as some of Pittsburgh's leading operators endorsed the conference suggestion of J. T. M. Stoneroad, president of the Carnegie Coal company.

Curtailment of production, such as now obtains in the oil fields, is a feature of Stoneroad's suggestion. Operators pointed out that use of the police power in the state would not necessitate calling out the National Guard to enforce any action which might be agreed upon in an emergency.

Stoneroad expressed the belief that invocation of police force would not be necessary to accomplish results, although it was pointed out that the scope of police power is as broad as the public welfare and broadest in scope of any governmental activities and within state rights.

B. H. Canon of the Clinton Block Coal company, president of the former Pittsburgh Coal Producers association, declared in favor of a tri-state governors conference. He said:

"If we could get the governors of Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio to take concerted action of some kind for the benefit of the industry, it would result in good. No one of the three states however, can do it alone."

J. H. Sanford, president of the Chartiers Creek Coal company, said "it would be the salvation of the industry" if the operators could obtain desired results through restriction of production and, at the same time, obtain a minimum price with an adequate wage for the miners.

Regiment Reunion In Worth Township

There will be a reunion of Company B of the 134th Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, of the Civil War, held Thursday, August 27, at the home of J. Bert Studebaker, Worth township, Butler county.

Four companies of this regiment were forced in Lawrence county, four in Butler county and two in Beaver county and the only survivors of Company B are James S. Maxwell, Slippery Rock township and William H. Shaffer of this city.

All soldiers of the Civil War, their sons, daughters, and families are invited to attend this reunion.

Offer Of Dollar Per Barrel Fails To Open Wells

Governor Murray Holding Out Until All Companies Meet Price

(International News Service)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 25.—Offers of a dollar a barrel for Crude Oil, the goal of Gov. William Murday, Oklahoma in his martial shutdown of this state's oil fields, today had failed to open production here or in Kansas or Texas where similary stringent measures had been taken to curb extensive output.

At Memphis, Gov. Murray was quoted as saying: "the military lid stays on until all major purchasers meet the price of $1 a barrel." Three companies, one a large purchaser, offered to pay the requisite price.

In Texas, Gov. Ross Sterling indicated there would be no changes in his orders because of the increased prices.

Price gains registered yesterday for Crude Oil ranged from 28 cents in Central Texas to 24 cents in Oklahoma.

Gasoline prices also rose. In Chicago, the end of a price war was seen in the announcement that Shell Petroleum company would raise all grades three cents a gallon today. Standard Oil of Indiana was expected to make a similar announcment tomorrow.

A hick town is a place where you can't buy anything naughty except at a filling station.

ELKS OF STATE IN CONVENTION

Business Sessions Are Started At Convention At State Capital

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 25.—First business sessions occupied the attention of delegates to the silver jubilee convention of the Pennsylvania Elks Association today, while crowds which were expected to swell the attendance to 10,000 by Thursday continued to pour into the city.

The delegates arranged a golf tournament at noon to offer a recess between the morning and afternoon business sessions, and ritualistic contests, sightseeing tours and a dance and vaudeville were to round out the day and evening.

A sidelight of the convention today was the visit which former governor John K. Tener, of Charleroi, planned to have with Governor Gifford Pinchot. Grand Exalted Ruler John R. Coen was to accompany Tener. The visit was described as "social, not political" in nature.

Tener was the featured speaker at last night's memorial services which formerly opened the convention.

The big feature of the convention, aside from election and installation of officers, is to be Thursday's parade, in which 116 lodges are to compete for a dozen prizes.

Welsh News

By WILLIAM A. JOHNS
(Brython)

A meeting of the Star of Wales lodge was held last Saturday evening, when the report of the delegate to the annual convention of the order was given by Joseph Leyde.

He said that everything passed in the spirit of true Ivorites and the officers and the delegates were tendered a royal welcome by the members of the two lodges of New York.

Benjamin Powell of Edison avenue, attended the Welsh reunion at Youngstown on last Wednesday and while there met many friends among them a relative, William Hargest and his family of Pittsburgh who brought Mr. Powell home to New Castle.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Morris and Mr. and Mrs. William M. Davies of South Jefferson street were among the crowd at the outing at Youngstown.

Miss Sally Botham, a Missionary from Africa occupied the pulpit of the Emmanuel Baptist church last Sunday evening, August 23, and gave a very interesting account of their work among the natives. Miss Botham is a very effective speaker.

Mrs. Sidney Johns of Garfield avenue, is spending her vacation at Atlantic City where she is having a good time.

The Welsh people of New Castle, were very glad to meet Rev. L. D. Rees, Mrs. Rees and daughter of Cambridge, Ohio in our city last week. Rev. Rees is the son of Deacon David Rees of East Washington and a brother to Arthur and Annie Rees. He started at the Emmanuel Baptist church here.

The friends and the members of the Emmanuel Baptist church will have the pleasure and the privilege of hearing a Welsh sermon next Sunday morning when the former pastor, Rev. Emrys Thomas of Gomer, Ohio will occupy the pulpit. Rev. Thomas is an excellent preacher possessing great knowledge of the Welsh language. Rev. and Mrs. Thomas are spending their vacation at the home of Mrs. Thomas' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Williams of Hillcrest avenue.

The veteran John Harvard has recovered following an operation he had last week at Youngstown. He was able to attend the services at the Emmanuel Baptist church last Sunday.

TESTIMONY IS TAKEN

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Pa., Aug. 25.—Testimony in the trial of two women and 12 men on riot charges in connection with the now famous "Canonsburg riot" on July 18 was to start here today. Court sessions were held last night to complete the jury. Patrick T. Fagan, district president of the United Mine Workers of America, was among those hurt in the Canonsburg melee.

Central Press

At Sea—Tomorrow morning we anchor at Cherbourg. Tonight there is the scent of clover in the air—from the coast of Cornwall, undoubtedly. Bishop's Light is winking off the port side as I write; and Lizzard Light is soon to come.

A gray little man in a tweed suit is standing on the rail, or was a little while ago, looking longingly at the darkness which is England. I hear that he is a native of Cornwall and grows sentimental at this stage of his bi-annual journey to America. He hasn't been home in twenty-five years. He is an executive in a Swedish match factory, with offices in Paris.

THE ATLANTIC PRESS.

There is something of a mystery about the definite English tone and make-up of the daily ship's newspaper. The Leviathan paper makes one wonder whether the dailies on the English lines are edited along American journalistic lines in reciprocity. Or perhaps the gazette takes on the flavor of the New York papers during the eastbound voyage. Certainly now it is more like the Illustrated London News.

Ship newspapers have always been a source of avid interest for me since the time, years ago, when a French printer reported the score of a big-league game in Yankee Stadium as, Giants, 154, Cardinals, 765.

There are also scores of puzzling little items like this, which I ran across this morning:

"Grenfell is preparing a chart of the Labrador coast, and when it is completed the country will become a great tourist resort, said the Archdeacon of Westminster at the Grenfell dinner."

That's all it said.

REPRISAL.

Mr. Boris Said, who is an official of the Standard Oil Company, and now on his way to Soviet Russia, is the sort of trans-Atlantic commuter who has learned the trick of telling stories for lazy afternoons on deck with dramatic emphasis and color.

He reports that during one crossing on a slow boat he and his wife were annoyed three nights running by the boisterous parties of two young men in the stateroom adjoining. The carousers had with them a portable victrola which tinkled and screeched until four and five a. m. as a background for unrestrained conviviality.

On the fourth day, after repeated requests and threats had availed nothing, Mr. Said got up early and scoured the ship until he found four victrolas and a large antique dinner gong. At ten o'clock, while the pair of merrymakers were sleeping it off, Mr. Said began his own symphony.

Two hours later the young men called and begged for a truce.

The remainder of the trip was peaceful enough.

INSIDIOUS CELLULOID.

With only a few hours remaining I find myself obsessed with a longing not to see the familiar places and faces of Paris but to see how well five rolls of movie film I have ground off during the trip will turn out. This is a dreadful confession and I feel that something ought to be done about it. Next Summer I'm going to leave my movie camera at home. The gadget is sapping all my thirst for the cultural wonders of Europe, except as possible long-shots or close-ups. And this in a guy who rarely can sit out a talkie!

BROTIFUL BAKER.

At seven o'clock this morning a lady on B deck rang for the steward rather frantically.

"What on earth," she wanted to know, "were those two frightful thumps I just heard on the ceiling? They frightened me terribly!"

"Oh, those, madame? Nothing at all. Only Mr. Phil Baker taking off his shoes."

Mr. Baker is in Suite A directly over her. But I cannot vouch for that story.

FENCES ARE UP.

Most of the lines, I hear, are tightening up on the class divisions. It is almost impossible for anyone, unless it be a pulchritudinous young lady, to slip up to first class nowadays and enjoy the swimming pool, the night club and other gaudy privileges. A few years ago it was unnecessary for collegiate youngsters with dinner clothes to buy first-class passage in order to have a good time among the plutocrats of First Cabin.

Today I saw two young men who occupy one of the most expensive rooms on the boat trying to buy, beg or browbeat their way past the gate to the Third Class accommodations—where a touring crowd of 200 young people were making merry.

STROUSS-HIRSHBERG'S

SAYS NEW CASTLE CAN BE PROUD OF TROOP F MEN

"New castle can well be proud of Troop F," said Louis B. Round, chairman of the civilian sponsor committee, today. Mr. Round, who is also an honorary colonel of the troop, spent a week with the troop on its recent two-week tour of duty at Colebrook and while there observed the men in the field and the reaction among the officers in charge.

"The officers were well pleased with the troop," continued Mr. Round. "Colonel Colohan, commanding the 103rd regiment, was loud in his praise of the organization and said that its improvement over last year was just as marked as last year's was over the year before. Major Wolf also spoke in a highly commendatory manner of the organization.

"Troop F just missed finishing first in the regiment," said Mr. Round, "and its daily work was of a calibre that comes only from well trained men who are willing and cheerful. When the call came for the troops to get out onto the field, Troop F was usually first. In the bivouac Troop F was first up with its canvas and first down. In the point-to-point ride Lieutenant Mitchell finished sixth in spite of the fact that he had an ordinary troop horse to compete against some fine mounts ridden by majors and colonels who were in the ride.

"It was an inspiration to see the New Castle men in camp," said Mr. Round. "They were real soldiers, and real gentlemen. The people of New Castle have a right to be proud of them."

National Farm Outlook

By ARTHUR H. JENKINS
Editor, The Farm Journal
Written for Central Press.

One trouble about these agricultural surpluses is that you can never put your finger on the individual who is responsible for making them.

You can round up all the producers of a given product, of course, and say to them: "You are growing too much spinach, or wheat, or peaches, or whatever it is; those who are producing the surplus will please step aside, and stop wrecking the price for all of us."

Under such circumstances, do you suppose for a moment that any one of the crowd would be found to take the blame? Certainly not.

If it happened to be the wheat growers we were addressing, the central and eastern farmers would say something like this: "Don't talk to us about surpluses. We grow only a limited acreage of wheat, the same as we have always done. We do it because it is a grain that fits in well with a rotation of crops, calls for labor when we are not busy with other things, and the straw as well as the wheat has valuable uses.

"We do not make the surplus—it is these dry-land, all-machine, big-acreage boys on the fringes of the southwest and northwest that have pushed production up so far. Why don't you tell them to get out of the business, and let legitimate farmers have a chance to make a profit?"

The west Kansas and Texas Panhandle type of wheat grower comes back just as vigorously. "Surplus nothing," he retorts. "Wheat is the kind of crop that can be and ought to be grown by factory methods. We grow wheat in our country on the cheapest possible basis, and that is the way it ought to be done.

"We can produce the grain at 35 or 40 cents a bushel, where your eastern farmers declare it costs you around a dollar. All right, then, let us grow the wheat, and you stick to things that you can produce and we can't. Our low-cost wheat is the real crop, and it is you who grow the surplus and wreck the price."

It is perfectly plain that here is an argument that can't be settled or compromised. If everybody blames somebody else for the surpluses, and refuses to get out of the business himself, there is nothing that can be done about it.

A very powerful government board might be able to say to certain grain growers: "You are the producers of the surplus; get out of the business and stay out. We only want 550,000,000 bushels of wheat this year." That method might be reasonably effective.

But there is no possibility whatever of such a thing. This country does not, and probably never will give such arbitrary power to any body of men.

Unless farmers in surplus-producing lines are willing and able to organize themselves, to figure out and enforce some plan of production limitation, it seems that all that can be done is to stand aside and let nature take its course.

Rural Population Displays Decline

Census Bureau Makes Public Figures On 1930 Population In Rural Centers

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Further evidence of the decline in the rural population of the nation was contained in figures made public Monday by the census bureau.

The farm population of the nation in April 1, 1930, was 30,447,550, or 24.8 per cent of the total population. In 1920 it was 31,614,269, or 29.9 percent of the total population.

A sharp increase, however, is shown in the rural non-farm population, which comprises people living in rural territory but not on farms. The number on 1930 is 23,662,710 as compared to 20,147,377 in 1920.

No explanation of the increase in the rural non-farm population is offered by the bureau. Some officials credit the automobile which has made it possible for persons to live in the country and work in the city, with the change.

The boy tripped and fell down a flight of stairs while he was carrying a bottle of milk in each hand. His cuts were so severe that he died a short time after the fall.

Big Enrollment At Mercer High

Biggest Freshman Class In Years Is Expected To Enter This Fall

MERCER, Aug. 25.—The largest freshman class in school history, 93, is registered now at the Mercer high school for matriculation, September 8th with the opening of school.

An attendance in excess of the 632 registered last year is expected states Prof. H. A. Krall in charge of the schools. The high school attendance of 1930 totals 239, a big gain over previous years. The freshman class gain of 12 this year indicates what may be expected even further in high school totals.

Registration day for pupils will be August 28th between 8:30 and 12 a. m. and 1 and 3 p. m. All pupils starting here for first time must be there on that date.

For the upper grades and high school will begin at 8:40 a. m. and dismiss at 11:40 a. m., reconvening at 1:00 p. m. and dismissing at 4:00 p. m.

HOUSE 118 YEARS OLD
(International News Service)

CHARDON, O.,—A 118-year-old residence building, still in position for occupancy, stands on King Memorial Highway here. Records show that the house was started in 1810 and was completed in 1813. Ox teams hauled the bricks from Fairport Harbor at night because of the extreme heat. Sand for the bricks was obtained by pulverizing sandstone and the bricks were made by hand. Even the nails were handmade. There are five fire-places in the building, one in each room.

PHONE LINEMAN A RUNNER
(International News Service)

CONCORD, N. H.—Henry Murray of this city is not only a long distance telephone lineman but is a long distance runner as well. Murray, who has participated in a large number of marathons, several times has been way up near the top of the pack in the annual Boston Marathon, and is the possessor of a number of records. The "running lineman" has engaged in over 100 races during his career and proudly displays a number of silver loving cups he has won. For the eighteen mile stretch between Concord and Manchester, Murray holds the unofficial record for both running and walking the distance.

Well, an economic system that can't survive a spell of dull business ought to be scrapped.

"You say the third degree didn't bother you a bit."

"No, not at all."

"Didn't they fire questions at you rapidly? Didn't they ask for explanations? Didn't they ask where you were at certain hours of the day and night?"

"Yes."

"Didn't they strike you in an endeavor to eke out a confession? Didn't they tell you that you couldn't drink or smoke until you told the truth? Didn't they threaten you?"

"Yes, they did all that."

"And still you say it didn't bother you a bit. Are you inhuman?"

"No, I was just used to it. My wife's been doing that for years."

SENSITIVE

A passenger on a tramcar noticed that the conductor was behaving strangely. At each stop he ran to the front of the car and dangled a piece of string in front of the driver, who swore roundly. Finally the passenger asked: "What's the idea of this little game you're playing with the driver?"

"It's like this, sir," confided the conductor. "My driver, 'e ain't got no sense of humour. 'Is brother was 'ung this morning."

Used In Medicine To Overcome Most Stomach Troubles

Tennessee Woman Ends Indigestion Which Troubled Her For 30 Years

Heartburn, belching, disfiguring and painful bloating after meals—headaches, dizzy spells, nervousness and sleeplessness are but a few of the woes with which indigestion sufferers are afflicted.

But a marvelous prescription to end indigestion has been especially compounded—Dare's Mentha Pepsin, which combines natural digestive elements with powerfully efficacious stomach tonics.

One tablespoonful of this pleasant tasting elixir immediately ends distress—taken faithfully for a short period of time puts your stomach in such fine shape again that you can eat anything you want without distress or further help.

Mrs. J. Martin of Knoxville, Tenn., wrote: "I'm 62 and had stomach trouble for 30 years and for the last 10 was unable to do much work. I had terrible spells of cramps and everything I ate caused gas to form. I had nervous distress that was terrible. The first dose of Dare's Mentha Pepsin helped me—it stopped the gas and pain and it's just the medicine I need. I wish all stomach sufferers would try it."

Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., and leading drug stores everywhere sell Dare's on a rigid money-back basis—the results you want, else don't pay one cent!

Nine Small Road Improvements Will Be Bid Upon By Contractors

IS BUT PART OF RURAL ROAD PLAN

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 25.—The department of highways will open bids for nine small road improvement projects on September 11, it was announced today.

The longest project involved is 3.5 miles of concrete on traffic route 208 in McKean county. On projects which are part of the rural road system and on which a type of surface costing more than $6,000 a mile is used local authorities must contribute the difference in the cost.

The projects listed include:

McKean—Foster and Otto townships, 3.57 miles, one course reinforced concrete; rural road system.

Venango - Cornplanter township 1.10 miles, one course reinforced concrete consisting of two lanes, either side of existing brick pavement, each lane variable in width, but having a total width throughout of 15 feet.

E. NEW CASTLE

WEDDING SOLEMNIZED

One of the most elaborate and beautiful weddings of the season took place Monday evening Aug. 24. at 8 p. m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Houk, when Miss Edith Tase of Baltimore, Maryland, became the bride of Charles E. Patchell Baltimore, Maryland.

The interior of the home was beautifully decorated with seasonable garden flowers.

Miss Alice Moser rendered the vocal selection, "I Love You Truly., in a most effective manner as Miss Jennie Houk played the Lohengrin Wedding March the bride entered accompanied by the brides maid, Mrs. Homer Houk.

The bride was attractively gowned in an orchid crepe with matching accessories, wearing a corsage of tea roses. Mr. and Mrs. Homer Houk acted as brides maid and best man. The former a sister of the groom, wore a gown of black and silver chiffon, carrying an arm bouquet of pink rose buds.

Before an alter which was beautifully embanked with garden flowers and ferns, the Rev. A. J. Randles of the Second United Presbyterian church officiated with the single ring ceremony.

Following the congratulatory period the wedding dinner was served in the dining room where tones were carried out in pink and white the center piece being a large wedding cake covers were laid for twenty guests.

After spending the week here the couple will return to Baltimore where they will reside. Mr. Patchell was a former New Castle resident.

Out of town guest were William Patchell of Cleveland, Ohio, and Mrs. Osterling of Butler.

Pershing Club Will Hear Judge Chambers Friday

Plans Completed For One Of Biggest Meetings Of Year At Court House

Members of the Pershing Club of Lawrence County, composed of veterans of all wars, will have the privilege of hearing Judge James A. Chambers speak at their general meeting in the Court House, Friday evening at 8:30.

Prior to the general meeting, there will be a brief session of the Governing Board, when the action taken by the Central Committee in endorsing additional candidates for city and county offices will be brought up for approval.

The membership of the Pershing Club is continuing to grow and over 500 ex-service men have been placed on the rolls of the organization, with many additional men expecting to enroll at the meeting Friday.

All ex-service men, regardless of the time, place or branch of service are invited to attend the meeting to be held Friday evening in the court house.

The meeting of the Central Committee held last evening was well attended by the representatives from the various sections of the county, and plans were completed for the meeting Friday evening.

Frank Lasso Is Caddy Champion

Wins Decisive Victory Over Ed Kardish At Ellwood Country Club

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 25.—By virtue of his decisive victory over Ed Kardish, in the finals of the Ellwood City Country Club caddy tourney, Frank Lasso is crowned as the new caddy champion. In the match preceding this one he had eliminated last year's champ to reach the finals. Lasso defeated Kardish 11 up and 9.

The match was to be a 36 hole contest--18 holes in the morning and 18 in the afternoon. Only 9 holes were necessary in the afternoon to place the crown firmly in Lasso's hands. For the first 18 holes Lasso turned in a card of 87 and Kardish 95. Then in the next nine holes the champion scored a 45 and the loser a 49.

The local caddies today are entertaining the New Castle field club in a home and home match.

Mrs. J. D. Kirk Is Club Hostess

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 25.—With charming hospitality, Mrs. J. D. Kirk opened her home on Fifth street last night, to the pleasure of the members of the Monday Nite Bridge. Mrs. Harry Hagers of Baltimore, Md., was a special guest on the occasion.

The home was beautiful in its clever appointments of garden flowers and exceedingly brightened the occasion.

Bridge occupied the attention of the guests for the greater part of the evening with three tables being in play. Mrs. Howard Wilson, Mrs. George Dambach, and Mrs. Harvey Aiken were the winners of the first, second, and third awards respectively at the conclusion of the games.

Later in the evening a dainty luncheon was served by the hostess much the satisfaction of those present.

Mrs. Joseph Moorhead invited the club to meet at her home on the Pittsburgh Circle in two weeks for their next regular meeting.

C. F. N. Members Enjoy Ham Fry

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 25—A fine representation of the members of the C. F. N. Club motored to Huber's Beach last evening and enjoyed a ham and egg fry. The fry was preceded by an interesting social period and swimming. The supper was served at 6:30.

At the conclusion of the supper all motored to the home of Miss Helen Rocks and busied themselves for the remainder of the evening with bridge. Mrs. Kathryn Herr received the high score favor at the conclusion of the games, with Miss Kelner and Miss Lucy Slevin taking second and third honors respectively.

Silver Jubilee At Zelienople

ZELIENOPLE, Aug. 25.—The Silver Jubilee of the St. Gregory's Catholic church will be held on Monday September 7. This is the 25th anniversary of the founding of the local church, and all former priests will be asked to return for this celebration. High Mass will be said in the morning, and several priests will be present at this time. The ladies of the church will serve dinner in the basement of the St. Gregory's school building at noon, and the grounds will be decorated, and games of various kinds will be played during the day.

All former members of the local parish will be asked to return for the day, and a fine celebration is planned. Committees have been appointed to take care of the work, and they will meet Tuesday evening to complete plans for the affair. The congregation is quite large, the church having been recently repaired and put into fine shape. They maintain a parochical school also, with four teachers, with a fine commercial department. Father M. Cavanaugh is in charge of the parish at this time and has been for the past five years.

Ellwood Caddies Trounce New Castle

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 25.—Apparently the Ellwood City Country Club caddies know their golf as shown by their past consecutive victories. This morning they gave the New Castle Field Club caddies a 21½ to 8½ defeat on the local course. Alex Vetica of Ellwood, turned in the best score of the day, an 84. Two other Ellwood boys were the next low scorers, with an 89. They are Mitty Macioge and Ken Bunny. Angelo Cimini was the visitor's outstanding performer with a score of 91 for the 18 holes.

The local caddies under the direction of Ernie Loeffler, caddy master have turned out to be very proficient at the game. They have had about six home matches of which they lost only one.

BRAEDEN CIRCLE MEETING

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 25—The regular monthly meeting of the Mary Braeden Circle of the Wurtemburg United Presbyterian church will be held at the home of Mrs. R. H. Kirk, this evening at 8 p. m.

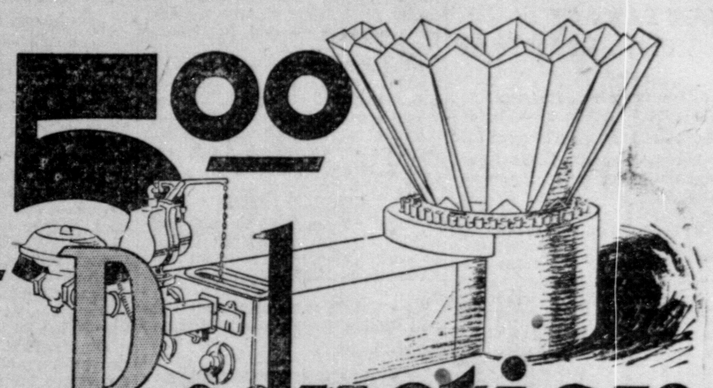
FINAL WEEK OF THE $15.00 Reduction



on AUTOMATIC GAS BURNERS

Offer Definitely Ends Monday, August 31

If you are the least interested in converting your old coal furnace or boiler into an automatic gas heating plant, by all means telephone the Gas Office at once.

Ask to have an estimate on the cost of gas heat for your home, so that you can make your decision before the close of business Monday, August 31. That will be your last day to save $15 of the installation cost. The full price of $185 goes into effect then. Place your order now and save $15.00.

Hundreds of these gas burners have been sold in the past few weeks to families who wanted to throw off all the uncertainties, the inconveniences and the worries of old fashioned heating ways. But in most instances they bought only after studying the fuel estimate and learning of the experience of thousands of other users on our lines.

Get your estimate without delay. A telephone call will bring a Heating Man at once. Then if you decide to buy, you can enjoy the easiest heating equipment terms ever offered.

Babe Ruth Hits Homer Number 37

Bambino Slashes Out Homer, Two Singles And Double In Chicago

CLEVELAND TOPS BOSTON RED SOX

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Babe Ruth hit his 37th circuiter in Chicago yesterday and pushed the Yankees and Pitcher Gomez along to an 8 to 5 win over the White Sox. Ruth is now three homers ahead of Gehrig and we'll bet that he stays there.

Two singles and a double that the Bambino snatched off Tommy Thomas along with his home run put him into a tie at .385 for the hitting honors in both circuits with Al Simmons of the Athletics.

The Cubs and Giants, battling for second place honors behind the St. Louis Cardinals, got nowhere as they split a twin bill. Bob Smith was right in the bad spots and the Cubs took the opener 8 to 4, while Bill Terry's second homer of the day gave Freddy Fitzsimmons the New York triumph over Guy Bush in the twilighter, 2 to 1.

Mahaffey Wins.

Leroy Mahaffey is becoming quite a hurler under the guidance of the peerless Connie Mack. He held the St. Louis Browns to five hits and chalked his 14th win of the season, 5 to 1. The Philadelphian has lost only two games this season.

The Cleveland Indians ambushed the Boston Sox 11 to 7, even though they were outhit. Eddie Morgan's homer with two on helped mightily. Jablonowski skidded in for Hudlin just in time to get credit for the victory.

The Tigers of Detroit laughingly left behind Chicago nad Boston to fight it out for the cellar honors by beating Washington 6 to 5 and moving into sixth place in the American league. Alexander connected in the ninth to give the Bengals the run that won. Hogsett was the winning hurler.

Rain held up the other teams.

Tigers Topple Mahoning Nine

West Siders Win First Contest Of Series For Independent Title, 5-1

In the first game of a series to determine the Independent champions of N ew Castle the West Side Tigers defeated the Mahoning A. A. aggregation on Monday night on the E. and A. field. The score was 5-1.

Hoffmeister for the West Siders was in superb form, limiting the Seventh Warders to two scattered hits while Perritta and F. Domenick hurled for the losers. They were pounded for nine blows. Jackson, Campbell and Wilcox featured at the plate for the winners while S. S. Domenick and S. Domenick secured the only hits off Hoffmeister.

The box score:

Railroad Clerk Is Severely Beaten By Bandits In Robbery

(International News Service)

ASHLAND, Pa., Aug. 25.—Two unmasked bandits blew open the safe at the station of the Reading Railroad here early today and escaped with $350.00 in cash after beating Vincent O'Hearn, night clerk who refused to reveal the safe combination.

The bandits administered a severe beating to O'Hearn, then applied nitro-Glycerine to the safe. They took the money and fled, presumably to a waiting automobile and escaped. Police notified authorities in nearby localities to be in the lookout for the pair.

O'Hearn was treated for his injuries and removed to his home.

Good Matches In Tennis Tourney

Lowell H. Wingerd Enters Tourney And Defeats Landolph In Straight Sets

PEZZONI TOPS BOB JAMIESON

The Senior and Junior singles in the second annual Sears, Roebuck and Company city tennis tournament, have advanced to the semi-finals, and by next week the finals will be played. The championship race this year has been quite interesting.

A new tennis star appeared last night in the person of Lowell H. Wingerd, holder of the Chatauqua Lake championship, and many other titles, who defeated Charles Landolph in straight sets 6-0, 6-1. Wingerd is one of the favorites in the tourney. Sowersby beat O. Riley in straight sets. Other Senior winners were Carroll, Harris and Art Woods.

In the Junior tourney Tommy Jones defeated Bud Long in the best out of three sets, 4-6, 7-5, 6-2. Viggiano defeated A. Brinko for an upset in straight sets.

Pezzoni won his way to the finals in the Midget tourney by defeating Bob Jamieson in straight sets 6-3, 6-3. Pezzoni will now play Billy Boston for the Midget championship. The semi-final match was played at the New Castle Field club court, and the final will take place at the same court, with Allen Garvin doing the directing and refereeing.

Hymie Levine has had charge of all matches played at the George Washington Junior High courts and Garvin at Boyles Field.

All games are played at Washington courts now except those otherwise listed.

Tully Caiazza, director of the tournament is very well pleased with the results to date and promises another tourney for next year.

The results for Monday:—

Seniors

Carroll defeated Russo 6-2, 6-4.

Harris defeated D. Marquis 6-4, 6-3.

Sowersby defeated O. Riley 6-3, 6-4.

L. Wingerd deefated Landolph 6-0, 6-1.

Art Woods defeated De Sanctis 6-4, 6-4.

Juniors

Tommy Jones defeated Bud Long 4-6, 6-2, 7-5.

Viggiano defeated Al Brinko 6-4, 6-1.

Midgets

Pezzoni defeated Bob Jamison 6-3, 6-3.

Pezzoni will play Billy Boston for Midget championship of city within a few days.

First Christians Win Championship

First Christians Take Both First And Second Half Titles In Church Mushball League

The First Christians handed the First Congregationals a 6 to 1 setback last night at Gaston park field, and thereby won the New Castle church mushball championship. The First Christians won both halves of the league. The game last night was featured by fine pitching on the part of A. Woods, who held the First Congregationals to four hits and fanned six men. R. Ryan featured the game by socking out two home runs and a single. R. Thomas and Crawford were the only members of the Congregationals to hit Woods successfully.

North Highland Plays Shenango

Shenango Needs Victory On Wednesday To Remain In County League Race

All eyes will be focused at Centennial field on Wednesday night when the North Highland aggregation meets the Shenango Pottery team in one of the important Lawrence county league games of the week. Three other games will feature Wednesday night's attraction here.

Wednesday night's games will mark the final games in the league. Postponed games will be at later dates. The Shenango team needs Wednesday's game to remain in the fight for the second half race. A win will place it one-half a contest ahead of the Scarazzos. A loss will drop the Pottery team to second place.

Wampum is booked at the Universal Sanitary field while Brent meets Bessemer at Bessemer. The fourth game finds West Pittsburg battling Hillsville. This completes the midweek schedule of the county league. In the meantime the officials of the league are formulating plans for New Castle's little world series which starts immediately following the second half race.

The Universal Sanitary team won the first half title. The winner of the second half meets the Universals for the baseball crown of New Castle.

WOMEN GOOD STUDENTS

PHILADELPHIA—Women make far better summer school students than men, Dr. Harry A. Cochran director of the summer school of Temple University, reported at the close of the summer session at that institution. They are more eager to learn and do not let their minds become distracted by midsummer allurements, asserted Dr. Cochran. The married woman, Dr. Cochran pointed out, is more earnest in her studies than her single sisters.

All wish to be learned, but no one is willing to pay the price.—Juvenal.

Mushball Notes

The Pump Station mushball team handed the Paul Street team a 19 to 9 defeat at the Paul street field last night. The game was featured by a lot of heavy hitting. Boher featured with a homer. H. Wyman had a triple.

The Atlantic A. C. defeated the Drake A. C. last night at Taggart field. N. Uram, on the hill for the winners, allowed the Drake A. C. but six hits. Fulkerson, N. Uram, Turk and Hritz had homers to feature the hitting of the game.

The Oak A. C. defeated the Young Yankees, 5 to 4, in a fast mushball game at Taggart field last night. The game was a pitchers' battle with Zazzerino outpitching Bosco to take the nod. Zazzerino allowed but six hits and fanned five men. B. Cooper, Stanley and Zazzerino featured at bat for the winners. B. Cooper had three doubles. It was the 38th victory of the year for the Oak A. C. team and they have lost but five. Tonight at Taggart field the Oak A. C. meets the Cunningham A. C. at 6:30 o'clock.

The Oak A. C. has a tough mushball schedule ahead of them. Tonight they meet the Cunningham A. C., Thursday night the Rose avenue team at the Rose avenue field. Friday the Drake A. C. at Taggart field. The Oak A. C. is playing good ball and hope to keep up their stride. Some of the fastest mushball teams in the city are numbered among their victims.

Marcella Midgets Defeat Keystones

The Marcella Midgets defeated the Keystone A. C., 14-12, in a fast baseball game at Taggart field Monday morning. B. Pascarella, stellar moundsman, pitched for the Midgets, but was sent to the showers in the seventh inning. Bullana's relief work was good. The Keystones outhit their opponents, but 13 errors proved their downfall. Leading hitters were B. Pascarella, Roman, Gallagher, Pagley, Zingaro and Ciambatti.

Dempsey Knocks Out Two Men In Portland Ring

Former Heavyweight Champion Looks Impressive; Meets Four Men In One Evening

BOSTON NEGRO IS ROCKED TO SLEEP

(International News Service)

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 25.—Jack Dempsey today sat enthroned in the hearts of 18,000 rabid Portland fight fans following his second convincing step on the long, long trail to a "comeback".

Before the largest crowd that ever witnessed a boxing card in the Pacific Northwest, Dempsey knocked out two heavyweights in less than three and a half minutes of fighting and then boxed four rounds more with two others for good measure, although his appearance here called for only four rounds of boxing.

First to face him in the ring, big Bill Hartwell, 217-pound Boston, Mass., negro, was socked to sleep in little more than two minutes of the first round without landing a solid blow. A stiff right to the chin that travelled only six inches lifted Hartwell off the floor and dropped the curtain.

Dempsey Is Tiger

Dave McCrea, 186-pounder from Tulsa, Okla., was the next victim, going out in less than one minute after Dempsey sprang across the ring with the opening gong in one of his old-time tigerish rushes. A left hook to the mid-section doing the deed.

Content to spar with Denny Lenhart, 182-pound Portland lumberjack, Dempsey allowed Lenhart to whale away, warding off the blows with his arms and shoulders. In the second round Lenhart landed a hot right to the jaw which ruffed Jack's hair and temper a little, causing him to cut loose with a right that lifted Lenhart off the floor.

But Lenhart managed to weather the storm and last to the bell. He let Bob Mariels, another aspiring Portlander, supplant him in Dempsey's attentions.

In these extra two rounds the mauler played with Mariels, demonstrating his old weaving and bobbing attack and giving a good exhibition of footwork.

Shenango Meets Scarazzos Nine

Important County League Tilt Will Be Played At Centennial Field Saturday

GAME TO START AT 3 O'CLOCK

Providing the Shenango Pottery team defeats North Highland on Wednesday night a title will be at stake on Saturday afternoon at Centennial field when the Shenango Pottery team battles Scarazzos. The game starts at 3:00 o'clock.

This contest is a playoff of a tilt which ended 5-5. The commissioners of the league ruled that this contest would have to be played next Saturday afternoon. At the present time the Shenango and Scarazzo nines are deadlocked for first place with 11 wins and two losses.

A win for the Shenango team will give it first place Wednesday. Should the Pottery representatives trim Scarazzos Saturday, they will be crowned the second half winners. If the Scarazzos win Saturday they will be tied for first place if Shenango trims North Highland. This game looms as one of the most important of the second half race.

GOLF for GIRLS

by GLENNA COLLETT

Women's National Golf Champion. Written for Central Press and The New Castle News.

NUMBER 19

The mental attitude on putts of 20, 30 or 40 feet is often a wrong one.

Glenna Collett

Players will attempt merely to get the ball dead, not to hole out, which, after all, is equivalent to missing a tee shot entirely or dubbing a brassie shot or topping an iron or making an approach that lands in a bunker.

Playing it safe you give yourself the penalty of any one of the things which cost you that extra stroke.

To avoid this waste, I have attempted to hole out on these long putts. After all, a 30-foot putt can drop, as well as a three-footer if you get the line. With this in mind, you will find that you are hitting, constantly, putts of more accuracy, keeping the line better, and becoming a far more reliable player on the greens.

Many girl golfers confuse speed of the hands with the punch of the club as it hits into the ball. So, in my 20th and final article I will describe how punch is put into the golf shot.

Girls Tourney Starts Monday

First Round Of Girls Tennis Tournament Starts At Mears Courts On Butler Avenue

Two matches were played on Monday night in the first round of the girls tennis tourney which is being staged under the direction of J. R. Mears. The two matches were played on the Mears court on Butler avenue.

The winner of this tourney will be crowned the tennis champ of New Castle. Prizes will be awarded the winners. Over a dozen girls are entered. In the first match of the evening Lillian Morris won in straight sets from Evelyn Moore. The scores were 6-2, 6-1.

The second match was halted on account of darkness. Evelyn McMillan copped the first set 6-0 and was leading 7-6 when the contest was halted. Her opponent was Martha Smith.

Tonight two more matches will be staked with Leona Frankey meeting Katherine Mears and Dee Rich opposing Louise Genkinger. This is the first time in a number of years that a girls tourney is being staged here.

Boro Indies Play 3-3 Tie

The Boro Indies and the New Castle Indies battled to a 3-3 tie on Monday night on the Clifton Flats field.

Donnelli-Gray Pine For K. O.

McGann Meets Powers And Couette Tackles Al Gruver Here

THREE OTHER BOUTS NEXT MONDAY NIGHT

There'll be a double six round windup next Monday night when Bill Donnelli and Homer Gray clash at 163 pounds and Jackie Powers, of Youngstown, battles Jackie McGann, of Pittsburgh, at 114 pounds. Donneli and Gray kept the crowd seething with excitement the last time they clashed and a knockout is predicted in the coming clash. Powers and McGann are two of the fastest flyweights in this vicinity.

Homer Gray, in explaining why he did not want to sign for a third bout against Donnelli, remarked that "Donnelli fiddles around too much and won't fight. If he would have loosened up I would have been able to knock him out."

After a conversation with Donnelli, the latter declared: "Loosen up? I was the one who was loosened and Gray went into a shell every time I started a punch. I'm going to show him if he will fight again."

Banko To Fight.

The managers of the two duskies finally got together and as each accused the other of not "tearing in" they agreed to settle the question of superiority and owing to the local rivalry it looks very much as though either will hear the "birdies" sing next Monday night.

Powers has fought all the best flyweights in this section and a few weeks ago boxed Frankie Bauman of Paterson, N. J., in a bout at Cleveland. He has been anxious to fight Midget Wolgast. McGann has three victories over Mickey Farr of Cleveland. Jimmy Dunn is his manager.

Johnny Banko will return to action with Young Terry, of Akron, as his opponent. Terry beat Vito Mangine. Banko and Terry will weigh 134. Merle Gibson, the awkward slammer from the East Side, will take on Clyde Merriner, Akron, who beat Mickey Ambrose, of Warren.

They have agreed to weigh 162 pounds and there is small doubt but that there will be a knockout. Another bout which holds rank with the last two on the card will be fought at 128 by Marshall Couette, of Cleveland, and Al Gruver, of Akron. Gruver is the chap who has fought Jackie Ward and other boys here.

Ray Gets Chance.

Ray Ritchie who lost to Eddie Elridge will get a chance to redeem himself against Eddie in a return bout. Ritchie claims that he had a coughing spell before the bout which left him weak. A right swing put him down and out. Ritchie hopes to atone for the knockout.

There is lots of interest in the coming show. A good crowd witnessed the bouts one week ago Monday night and as a result two six rounders were arranged. All the boxers here are in training and it looks like a real night of punch next Monday.

Malizias Top Volant Nine, 8-7

Coming back after a bad start the Malizia baseball team defeated the Volant nine on Monday night on the Croton field. The score was 8-7.

Volant took a six run lead in the first inning but could not hold it. The hitting of Rubeis and Dietrich featured for the Malizias while Wilkins, Allen and Simpson were the best for the losing nine.

The score by innings:
Malizias ..... 116 0x—8
Volant ..... 600 10—7

The batteries: Volant, Miller, Morgan and Winger; Malizias, Fiorelli, C. Stone and Leonelli.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Vidal Gregorio, Spanish bantamweight, outpointed Jimmy Thomas of Pittsburgh in 10 rounds last night at Pittsburgh. Gregorio had Thomas in distress in the ninth round. Thomas was to have fought in a six round bout in the bowl here next Monday night but he was not booked as his proposed foe, Jackie Powers weighs only 114 and Thomas 119.

George Pipgras, right hand pitcher who was lost to the Yankees a third of the season owing to an appendix operation may be out the rest of the season. He is to have his right hand examinted which was hurt in St. Louis by a line drive from Storti's bat. It is feared the finger is broken.

Hack Wilson Is Off His Stride

Terrific Slugger Of 1930 Season Is Batting But .268 This Season

BANISHED FROM GAME ON MONDAY

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Hack Wilson has again assumed the role of a lion rendered somewhat toothless by a .268 batting average.

The transformation occurred in the second game of yesterday's double-header with the Giants when the pudgy Chicago outfielder, enraged by the calling of a third strike blew up like a still. He finally was kicked out of the game by Umpire Reardon after some hot repartee had been exchanged.

For 12 innings Wilson swallowed insults—and laughed. When Parmalee of the Giants tried to "dust him off" he merely grinned. A couple of years ago the fiery Hack knocked a Cincinnati pitcher down for the same offense.

Goes Haywire.

Again, Wilson appeared elated when given free transportation to first base. Last year under the same circumstances the slugger would have called the opposing pitcher everything in the dictionary for not giving him a decent ball to hit.

Later, after the Chicago strong man connecting for a looping single, his teammates patted him on the back in encouragement. It seemed like a travesty on the man who a year ago was playing "home run or no count."

Then came the blow-off. When an off-color third strike was called on him, Hack again became the fiery hot-head of the heyday of his glory. He roared and raved. Ordered off the field, he lingered, and fans booed him gleefully.

It is heartening to see the old Wilson out there again. Hack never was cut out to be a lamb.

Lockleys Defeat Radiators 16 to 4

The Lockleys topped the Radiators 16 to 4 in a class A mushball game at Radiator field last night. The pitching of Heasley and Rodgers was too good for the Radiators. E Lockley featured with a homer. S. Lockley, Mitchell, Muco and Rodgers hit triples. S. Lockley had three hits to top the batters.

Eldred, Luther And O'Hara Qualify For N. P. G. A. Tourney

National Professional Golfers Will Battle At Providence, R. I.

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 25.—Vincent Eldred of the Highland Country Club, Pete O'Hara of the Westmoreland Club and Ted Luther of Corry are the three qualifiers today from this district who will battle it out in the National Professional Golfers' Association tournament at Providence, R. I., September 14-19.

Eldred paced the field with a 147. O'Hara and Luther were tied with George Underwood of Alcoma, with 151's at the end of the day's play, but the latter withdrew to avoid a play-off. The pro matches were held at the Fox Chapel Country Club.

HUDSON with Selective Free Wheeling Means SUPREME PERFORMANCE

Scores of motorists fresh from examining and driving the latest and best cars of the day declare Hudson the supreme performer.

They refer not alone to the luxury of its floating smoothness. They think of other qualities than silent gear shifting or the greater comfort of driving in traffic. They are enthusiastic about Hudson power. The nimbleness of its motor, the ease of its steering and the luxury of its bodies are also taken into account. The economy and reliability that owners report impress them.

Selective Free Wheeling greatly enhances a performance that was already individual. Its floating ride is unlike anything you have ever experienced in a motor car. Gears shift silently, from high to low, down or up without need to use the clutch. You will like it. And you will learn that Hudson meets every requirement of true luxury at moderate prices.

The STARTIX
Simplified and Automatic Motor Starting
A New HUDSON Feature

Women who drive their own cars will appreciate the convenience of the Startix. Just turn the ignition key and the starter goes into action. No pedal to step on, no button to pull.

You never need worry about stalling your car. The moment the motor stops with the switch on, the Startix automatically re-starts it without any effort or thought on your part.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Oil And Mercantile Stocks Are Leaders

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—The Oil and Mercantile stocks were the leaders this morning in a moderate advance in an irregular market. Woolworth, May, Montgomery Ward and other "store" stocks pushed ahead a point or two in anticipation of improving retail business after the turn of the month. The Standard Oils of New Jersey and California moved up fractionally to 40 each, as the result of reports that the projected $2,500,000,000 merger of these industrial giants will be consummated on the basis of an even exchange of stock.

United States Steel was under close observation, in effort to determine, if possible, the effect of this afternoon's important meeting of the finance committee and the board of directors on the future business of the corporation. Having already cut salaries in the Steel trade, Wall street heard that the board would today order a cut in wages of workmen. Big Steel sold up more than a point at 88¼ and the Steel stocks in general were quiet and steady. McKeesport Tinplate was a weak spot, with a new 3-point drop to 65¼ on reports of a shrinkage in third quarter income.

Wall street was inclined to await the outcome of the attempted coalition of England's political forces in an effort to stave off another crises. The British pound was unchanged at the opening and United Kingdom 5½s jumped a point above yesterday's closing price.

Stocks in the second hour zigzaged through a narrow price range. American Can was under pressure and fell off a point to 90¾. The Oils continued to attract the best buying demand, while the Rails and Utilities were dull and inclined to sag. Call Money was unchanged at 1½ per cent. Cotton dropped off about 75 cents a bale under the influence of a reactionary Liverpool market.

Arms Against Self

By a peculiar coincidence, Brig.-Gen. Jacob F. Wolters (above), who was placed in command of troops in the areas comprising four counties under martial law in the East Texas oil fields, is an attorney for the Texas Company, one of the major oil operating firms in the Lone Star State. General Wolters was ordered into the oil area by Governor Ross S. Sterling to halt production in order that prices might be raised.

The final test of virtue is to be sick and still give a darn how mean the world is.

HOLDOUT SEASON

That time of year is drawing nigh,
When clubs and athletes dicker.
The players squawk, the magnates cry,
From fall to spring they bicker.

The current protests of fans following the 14 clubs that are decidedly out in the cold, against the "preponderance of strength" grouped on the Athletic and Cardinal rosters looks like the old baloney, sliced thick, until one analyses the pennant races.

"If it weren't for the A's and Cards," bawls the irate fan, "the big league gallops would be closer than Monday and Tuesday. Baseball would be viewing two red-hot scraps instead of twin farces."

Is that right? It is!

Let's suppose there weren't any Philadelphia Athletics or St. Louis Cardinals. That is, let's discount their performances against their foes this season.

We do this by subtracting all games won by the A's and Cards from the loss column of their foes and all games lost by the A's and Cards from their victory record of the other clubs.

The result is two closely grouped league races with two clubs carrying on a hot battle for first place and a third team in each loop on the edge of the fight, able to pop into it by a win or two.

* * *

Here's the way the pennant races would have looked on August 21 if there were no A's or Cards:

American League

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Washington	63	36	.636
New York	59	40	.600
Cleveland	53	44	.546
Chicago	44	55	.444
St. Louis	44	57	.423
Detroit	42	56	.429
Boston	44	60	.423

National League

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
New York	57	39	.593
Chicago	58	41	.586
Brooklyn	54	48	.529
Pittsburgh	50	52	.490
Boston	48	55	.466
Philadelphia	46	59	.438
Cincinnati	41	61	.401

As can be easily seen, the first division clubs would not be the only ones benefited.

Compare those standings with the real ones in today's paper. Washington and the Giants lead in our fictitious seven-club pennant races, but the Yankees, Cleveland, the Cubs and Brooklyn all have fine chances to cop.

Additional proof that the A's and Cards have made farces of the current campaigns is seen in the difference between first and last place clubs in the real race and the shorter margin which separates top and bottom in the mythical pennant chases.

Today the Athletics have nearly a 40-game lead over the last place club, while in our mythical standings the leader tops Boston, the tailender, by but 22½ games.

The Cards enjoy a better than 30-game lead over the Reds, but in our suppositious race the leader is but 19 games ahead of Cincinnati.

Well, there's your argument. Figures don't lie, not these, anyway.

The attitude of the trailing big league teams should be that of the manager whose team had just lost its 12th straight. As the bedraggled athletes stumbled into the dugout he chirped: "Cheer up, boys' we can't win 'em all!"

* * *

Within a few weeks football coaches will be posing proudly with a pigskin. Three months from now nine-tenths of them will wish they'd never seen one.

* * *

Someone has gone and discovered that Babe Ruth's feet are flat, but not as flat as the heads of people who worry about such matters.

* * *

The Giants, hoping to pep up their team in 1932, have acquired one Ray Pepper. Now all they have to do is grab a bloke named Winner and that flag race will be over.

Pierce & Bartch Top St. Andrews

The Pierce & Bartch team of the Class B mushball league took a 13 to 6 victory over the St. Andrews team, in a mushball game at Gaston park on Monday night. It was the 36th victory of the year for the Pierce & Bartch team against six losses. The winners found Evans for twelve hits. Galone, Ambrozia, Fornataro and Penry featured the game with home runs. Wampum Wallops Universals, 13-0

Hitting three pitchers for 17 hits the Wampum nine moved up in the Lawrence County League by handing the Universal Sanitary nine a 13-0 walloping on the Chewton field on Saturday.

The Universals used three hurlers, Vallely, Mackey and Coates while Dubrovich left handed the Universals to death. He yielded but four hits. He struck out nine men.

Romeo and Cleary featured at the plate for the Wampum aggregation while McConahy and General were the best for the losers.

Poison Victim?

San Francisco police are investigating a theory that Louis Haywood (above), 3, may have died from strychnine instead of spinal meningitis, as reported by autopsy surgeons. The probe followed the death of 10 chickens, owned by the lad's mother, from strychnine. The boy was stricken while playing in the yard where the chickens died.

"Dry" Goes "Wet"

Samuel Vauclain (above), steel magnate of New York, and for many years a supporter of the dry law, has definitely reversed his stand and advocates repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. The national treasury should collect much of the millions now going to bootleggers, avers Mr. Vauclain, who supports, to some degree, Senator Morrow's plan to leave dry legislation up to the States.

Nab Feared Killer

Wilbur Underhill (above), 29, and reputed to be one of the most feared killers of the southwest, was captured after a gun battle in which he was wounded. Underhill was shot down by a policeman of Wichita, Kan., after the desperado-murderer had shot and killed Officer Merle Colver, while being questioned. Underhill escaped from Oklahoma state penitentiary where he was serving a life sentence for two murders. He's suspected of at least four killings.

Last In Service

Captain Lowell Smith (above), leader of the U. S. Army 'round-the-world flight and the only man among those intrepid fliers still in the service, is busy these days testing a new bombing plane for the army. The tests, conducted at Philadelphia, have shown the plane is capable of carrying a ton of explosives across the country with its twin motors and wing span of 75 feet.

"SOMETHING TELLS ME"

That the money that used to talk is losing its voice.

That even pin-money never sticks.

That many stocks have gone to the stockyard to be slaughtered.

That raising money is harder than raising children, and it takes money to raise both.

That a bank crash is heard by every depositor.

That in a pool money has to float, —into somebody's pocket.

That a bank that doesn't pass the examination, naturally has to fail.

That banks close for all holidays, and if some of them would only open it would mean a holiday for many people.

SALLY'S SALLIES

Another good thing for a woman's complexion is to let it alone.

Heads Jobless Aid

Walter S. Gifford (above), President of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, has been appointed by President Hoover to form and direct a nation-wide organization for the relief of the unemployed this Winter. Gifford is to co-operate with public authorities and mobilize all relief agencies. His headquarters will be in Washington.

Don't worry about Fall. A man who could accept a bribe nobody gave should be able to find a saw almost anywhere.—The Hartford Daily Times.

Joins Oil War

Joining Governor W. H. Murray of Oklahoma in his war on the oil field "front," Governor Ross Shaw Sterling of Texas (above) has ordered 800 National Guardsmen into the huge East Texas oil fields to curb uncontrolled production. Martial law already has been proclaimed in Oklahoma to raise the price of oil, and Governor Sterling's action has been anticipated as an aid to Texas policy.

The old-time Western bad man wasn't such a hero. When did he ever bag five children at one shot?

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

The family was out last night for a picnic, The News family, and the squeaking joints heard around the plant today are the result of the party. Some of the boys look all right but they'll never be the same again.

Getting this family together shows quite a sizeable crowd, and believe it or not Mr. Ripley, there was 120 sat down to the picnic dinner. And what a dinner. After putting away the various ham and hot dog sandwiches they brought around a flock of watermelons that needed attention and got it.

Each department of the plant had its place in the sun. When the eating was on, the composing room force was supreme. You never saw anything like a hungry printer eat. Fact is printers are famous for their appetites. A printers' devil in Connellsville yesterday ate 19 bananas and then offered to eat the skins if someone would take up a collection. And he was just beginning the printer trade. These lads out at the picnic last night have been in the game for years.

The press room gang shone in the fun house and the editorial force on the dance floor. After competing with those hombres from the press room, on that whirling wheel in the fun house, the engineer feels like a busted shovel today.

But it was a swell party. Swelegant in fact. The best party we've been to in ages, and the stiff muscles and bruised spots today are merely reminders of a time.

One thing is out in this colyum this season and that's a lot of stories about large ears of corn, exceptional cucumbers or egg plants the size of pumpkins. Old Dame Nature has done herself proud this summer and there are so many unusual gardens that listing them would be merely a cross section of all the gardens in Lawrence county.

Saw an odd thing at Mill and Washington yesterday. An Ohio driver, who apparently didn't know the driving rules of the street and either didn't or couldn't read the sign which stared him in the face, made a left hand turn off Mill onto Washington. Four cars and a truck followed him through.

The lads from Ohio seem to have a charmed life. They violate every traffic rule in the book but seem to be able to get away with it. Maybe its a gift.

DRIVER GETS SLEEPY

(International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Aug. 25.—Because Arthur Gordon, 26, of Connellsville, felt sleepy while driving his machine along the National Pike east of here, three automobiles were being repaired today and Gordon was held pending investigation. Gordon's car struck and damaged two other automobiles.

BABY MOOSE CAPTURED

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO— Two baby moose, a month old, are the latest residents at the Fleishhacker zoo here. They were captured in Alaska. George Bistany, superintendent at the zoo said there are no moose in captivity at present.

And will they let Mr. Capone change his sentence too, if he doesn't like that?

Delegates Back From Conference

Girl Reserve Club Delegates Back From Annual Summer Kiski Conference

At about noon yesterday the ten delegates for the senior high school and Benjamin Franklin junior high school Girl Reserves clubs returned to New Castle after spending a week at Saltsburg, Pa., attending the annual Girl Reserve conference at Kiski.

Two of the delegates were from the Junior club and are the first ever to be sent by a junior high school club of New Castle. They are Josephine Daino and Carrie Jane Roberts. They were accompanied by the chief advisor of the Benjamin Franklin Girl Reserve club, Miss Evea Coulter.

Senior high girls who attended are Martha Randles, Elizabeth Lower, Mary Jane Metzler, Ruth Brennaman, Helen Shaffer, Helen Barr, Mary Lou Burckart and Becky Carson.

Upon their arrival at Kiski the junior and senior girls divided into their separate groups and attended their respective conference sessions each day.

Unemployment, Child Labor and World Peace were the three main topics under discussion in the major group, according to the report of Miss Coulter. Dr. Klague, a Philadelphia professor led the discussion on unemployment and what the girls could do to help the situation. Child Labor and World Peace were discussed extensively and the girls were given an opportunity for signing a petition of their own advocating World peace.

This year there were 275 delegates in attendance from this part of the United States and two delegates from Japan and Panama. The attendance was the highest the annual conference has ever had and indicates that the Girl Reserve movement is gaining. There were more advisors present than ever before.

Josephine Daino and Carrie Jane Roberts took a prominent part in the Junior affairs of the week. Josephine entertained with two violin solos at camp fire service, was made one of the editors of "Kiski Komments," the conference newserpaper, wrote two poems for the paper and served as one of the aids in planning Saturday morning worship. Carie was equally as busy, being one of the group which wrote a play "On hand and Not Under Foot," taking a part in the play and an enthusiastic part in many activities of the week.

In the meantime the senior girls were busy with a round of their own activities. They attended conference sessions, classes, etc., and received many new ideas for their club work.

Then they had movie parties, dances, swimming, tennis, horseback riding, bowling and the week flew away all to fast.
